Pass Set To Recommend Construction

By FRANK LAPIERRE

South San Francisco City Planner Dan Pass this week decided to reverse his previous stand against the proposed Bayfront Freeway and will recommend its construction to that city's planning commission soon. Earlier, Pass turned thumbs down on the Bayfront Freeway, which will parallel the present Bayshore

Freeway several hundred yards offshore and offered as an alternative a plan for double-decking the now crowded Bayshore route.

"After studying the matter further I find that double-decking the Bayshore would not be sufficient to handle the expected traffic and industrial growth of our area," Pass told The Post.

The reversal came as a result of several proposed revisions made by the planning staff in the city's general plan and was expected to meet with considerable opposition from so-called "Save the Bay" groups.

"I want to stress the fact that the 'causeway type' freeway which is being recommended instead of the 'fill type' freeway uses a minimum of earth fill material," Pass explained.

A similar causeway type freeway is now in use between the Florida mainland and Key West, Pass said.

The alternatives Pass' office staff have come up with reveal the need for additional freeway facilities as an aid to projected growth for the entire Bay Area.

"These facilities will have to meet the growth needs of the city, the Peninsula and the entire Bay Area."

"They will have to also meet the traffic challenge created by the increased emphasis on air travel and transport, increased industrialization on the Peninsula, increased residential and commercial growth of the area, and the propensity of the average California family to own several automobiles," Pass said in his recommendations to the commission.

He said "additional freeway facilities should take the form of a double-decked Bayshore Freeway and a new Bayfront Freeway."

Asked how long the proposed freeways would adequately serve the Peninsula, Pass answered "to its ultimate growth."

Jeff Role In Pace Probable

Trustees of the Jefferson High School District have expressed a willingness to participate in the San Mateo County PACE Program.

The projects to advance Creativity in Education (PACE) program would involve about 25 youngsters, Dist. Supt. Edward Morgan explained to the Daly City trustees Monday.

Details for the project have not yet been formulated, but (Please See Page 2, Column 2)

Negotiations Break Off

Negotiations between Hiram Walker & Sons, nationwide distillery company, and S & W Foods Company for leasing of a warehouse and property in Daly City have broken off and the giant whiskey firm is looking for a suitable location elsewhere, it was learned Monday.

Hiram Walker had earlier received the support of the city council in their bid to turn the food company buildings into a processing and storage plant.

Ward Netsell, representative of the distiller said Hiram Walker, "with regret must look elsewhere" now that talks with the present owners of the property had broken off.

Cafeteria Report Jefferson Sees Some Black Ink

The cafeterias in the Jefferson High School District are doing a shade better than last year at this time and are running "in the black."

Last year's red-ink ledgers had brought the forecast that cafeteria offering of a Class A hot lunch would be on the way out unless the downhill figure on profits changed suddenly.

The returns are not all that good now, according to the September 12 through October 31 report filed Monday with district trustees.

In fact, the records show the cafeterias only $257.87 to the good, with two of the district's four high schools still scratching the books with red ink.

However, the reason administrators are breathing somewhat easier is the recollection of last year's deficit of $4,109 for this same period.

Jefferson High was $901 in the hole on October 31. Terra Nova was down by $348. And Westmoor, with $1,017 "ahead," and Oceana with $489.81 in the black, appeared solvent.

Over-all, this period's combined revenue came to $62,256, compared with last year's $47,200.75 (same September 12 to October 31 period); the cost

Gellerts Give D.C. $10,000 For Christmas

Daly City received an unexpected Christmas present—in the form of two $5,000 donations—from Fred and Carl Gellert Monday night.

The Gellerts are builders of the huge Serramonte housing area in Daly City.

In separate letters to the council, the Gellerts asked that the $10,000 donation be used to equip parks and playgrounds with assorted recreational equipment "for the pleasure and enjoyment of (the city's) residents."

of food last year was $29,703.61 during the first accounting period, in contrast to $35,116 this time.

It was pointed out to trustees, however, that more surplus funds have been made available to date than all last year.

Increased participation in the "A"-type National School Lunch Program by students would help the financial standing of the cafeterias, in which snacks also to October 31 period; the cost

D.C. Post Office Girds for Deluge

The Daly City Post Office, girding its forces for the annual deluge of Christmas mail, has announced new, special hours for the holiday mailing season.

Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy said the schedule would include Saturdays and Sundays until Christmas eve; Monday through Fridays, 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturday, December 10, all stations 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, December 17, all stations 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturday, December 24, Christmas eve—Westlake, Vista Grande and Colma stations will be open from 8 a.m. to 12 noon; main office, 1100 Sullivan Street, will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday, December 11, and Sunday, December 18, main office and Westlake station will open from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.; Vista Grande and Colma stations will remain closed.

In addition to listing the special hours, Murphy also announced these special hints for Christmas mailers:

Use Zip code numbers for speedy delivery (and return). Use five cent stamps for Christmas cards.

Cards sent at the four cent rate may not carry a personal message in addition to the usual signature. Package gifts in strong cartons, and include a card with names and addresses of sender and addressee so that in the event of loss of the outside label, the article will be speeded to its destination.

Policy On Holidays Approved

The Daly City Council Monday approved revision of the city's holiday for city employees.

The new ordinance provides for additional half-day holidays on December 24 and December 31.

If the holiday should fall on a Saturday, the Friday preceding will be celebrated.

"Where public necessity or convenience requires it, the city manager may, by written order, require such employees as he may designate therein to work on any or all said holidays," the revised regulation stipulates.

The proposed changes had been the subject of intensive discussion between city employees, the personnel board and city officials for the past several months.

NDEA Funds Increased In Schools

A $1,400 increase in National Defense Education Act (Title III) funds is being received this term for use at Jefferson District High Schools in Daly City and Pacifica.

Last year the district received $19,600 in science, mathematics, foreign language, reading, English, government and history instructional aid grants.

The district must match the amount received from the Federal government.

This year's $21,000 U.S. sum will provide:

—At Terra Nova, modern math concepts through audio-visual enrichment, $443; biology lab program for terminal science students, $3,341.

—At Oceana, laboratory equipment for problem solving in science for slow learners, $1,715; reading lab, $745.

—At Westmoor, enriched mathematics program, $1,411; BSCS laboratory, $6,696.

—At Jefferson, materials and equipment for enriched social science program, $3,696.

D.C. Gets Tough On Occupancy

Educator Answers Criticism

By DON GRIERSON

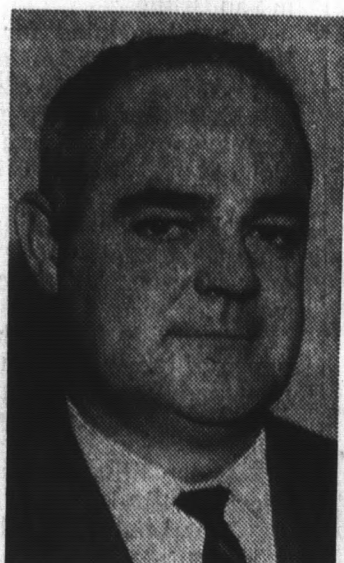

Jefferson Elementary School Dist. Supt. Frank Greenwood delivered an extensive reply Monday to a list of complaints brought against his administration by Mrs. Dorothy Adams, president of the John F. Kennedy and Woodrow Wilson P-TA.

Reading from a prepared statement at a special meeting called for the purpose, Greenwood answered complaints ranging from dissatisfaction with the district's use of SCOPE anti-poverty funds to allegations that he personally "has little regard for the rights of individuals."

On the latest complaint against the administration, dealing with distribution of Scope funds, Greenwood said the district has "invested more money per child east of Junipero Serra Boulevard" than in other sections of the city.

A quantity of materials used in the J.F.K. and Woodrow Wilson remedial reading programs was purchased with district funds in order to supplement the SCOPE project, the superintendent said.

"The cost of extra materials and equipment contributed by the district for the remedial (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

2 Arraigned For Holdup In S.S.F.

An "artist" and "writer" charged with holding up the Holiday Inn on Airport Boulevard in South San Francisco October 31 were arraigned in North County Municipal Court Monday on charges of armed robbery and assaulting police officers with intent to murder.

Held without bail were Robert Blaine Wolfe, 24, of Medford, Ore., and James William Kil-laine, 24, of Alameda. The two men were arrested last week in Seattle in the course of another motel robbery.

They were returned to San Mateo County Friday by South San Francisco Police Detectives on an import-export mail order (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

3 Injured In Tuesday Accidents

Two separate Daly City accidents within seven minutes of each other sent three persons to Mary's Help Hospital with serious injuries early Tuesday.

The first accident occurred shortly after midnight when a car driven by William Kingwell, 29, of San Francisco, hit a parked car on Geneva Avenue.

Hospital authorities said Kingwell suffered major chest injuries in the accident and was under observation in the hospital's intensive care unit today.

At 12:35 a.m. a car driven by Carol West of 219 Avalon Drive, Daly City, skidded off Westmoor Avenue and smashed into the home of Joseph Seibel, inflicting substantial damage to the home.

Both Miss West, 18, and a passenger, Kathryn Rodriguez, 18, 204 Westview Street, South San Francisco, suffered concussions in the accident.

Police were continuing their investigation of both accidents.

D.C. Buys New Cars

The Daly City council Monday night beefed up the city's police patrol force by nine cars, one four-wheeled drive vehicle and three trucks.

Total cost for the vehicles purchased from three different dealers was $33,224.31.

James E. Donahue was awarded bid of $20,154.74 for the nine patrol cars while Arata Pontiac was awarded the contract to supply a four-wheeled drive vehicle for $2,340 and Westlake Dodge the three trucks for a total of $10,729.57.

Permits Being Denied

A "get tough" policy regarding home occupations in Daly City was evidenced Monday as councilmen flatly rejected three use permits to persons asking to conduct limited businesses in their homes.

One woman who submitted an application for such a permit a month ago, left the council chambers on the verge of tears after hearing her request denied.

Mrs. Chryso Adams explained that she had three young children to care for and wanted to operate a small beauty salon in the basement of her home.

The city's planning commission had earlier recommended approval of the permit.

Another woman, Mrs. Gerda Karliner, 47, asked the council to approve her request to operate a small massage parlor in her home at 91 Meffo Avenue and was likewise turned down.

Mrs. Karliner told the council she was not interested "in making a lot of money, just enough to help me support my family."

She has a young son attending high school in Daly City.

"I believe a mother should stay home with her family," Mrs. Karliner said. "And if they (the council) think this business might get out of hand, they could periodically check up on me."

For Youngsters

Post Christmas Contest Starts

The Post started today giving over $200 worth of gift certificates to the winners of the Times-Post Sixth Annual Christmas Contest.

Boys and girls, six to ten years of age, are eligible.

Photographs of the winners will appear in The Times and Post until December 21, on the Christmas classified gift spotter page, which displays carefully selected gifts.

They are placed under headings which include everyone on the gift list.

The youngsters write letters on "My Best Christmas."

From these letters will be chosen the best, for gift prize awards. They will be published in The Times and The Post.

Two winners are selected each day, with winners selected for ideas, thought and sincerity rather than for correct English, spelling or handwriting.

First winners are Kaylene Hutchings, San Mateo and Chris Miettinen of Belmont. Their photos and letters are in today's classified section.

Final Grid Award Goes To Coaches

The Hillsdale High coaches, who missed the cash prize by one yard in the sixth week of the football contest, won the final prize of $200 plus $50 for being home-delivered subscribers to The Times.

Three entries submitted jointly by Homer Zugelder, Jack Schipper, Keith Gordon, Charles Borreco and Don Ralston all picked the 12 winners and gave the same nearest estimate of the net yards made by the 49ers in their game against the Eagles last Sunday.

The coaches will share the prize money equally and receive $50 each.

Other contestants who picked 12 winners included Bob Banning of San Bruno, Al Perada of Daly City, Thomas Brennan of South San Francisco, John Vangelder and Al Johnston of Burlingame, and Coleen Kahler, Steve Pizzo, Mrs. P. Johnston, and M. W. Cargay of San Mateo. There were 61 other entries that picked 11 winners.

Bikes 'n Chicken!

HEY: A chance for the kids to pick up a bike... cheap, mebbe... when the Daly City Police Dept. goes briefly into the bike business.

Chief R. A. Petrocchi notes that on December 2 — that's Friday, at 10 a.m. — in the rear of City Hall at 75 Wellington Avenue — "miscellaneous girls' and boys' bicycles, various sizes," will be auctioned "for spot cash only," and sold "where and as is," without warranty.

UPSY... a 14 per cent increase in sales over a similar period last year has been recorded for the three months that ended October 31 by Skagg's Pay Less Stores.

FOR THE CHICKEN (EATING) SET: A new take-home store in Daly City, to be known as Kentucky Fried Chicken Take-Home Store... the nineteenth of its kind that's opened in a little more than three years. In this area, there's another outlet in San Bruno.

IN 1961 the lighting of the National Christmas Tree at the White House introduced to America over Network TV an exciting new electronic marvel.

The 75-foot Douglas fir placed on the south elipse of the White House lawn was covered with a thousand plexiglass spheres which were synchronized to the impressive musical programs selected by the Pageant of Peace Committee.

At the time it was called by the press as "the most beautiful tree in the country."

Now Linda Mar Shopping Center in Pacifica is working, a news release disclosed, to dedicate this spectacular Kaleidoscope Tree to Pacifica.

FOR THOSE like us who have lost patience with the new-kick Christmas, the observation from a Walgreen Drugstore's yule decorations buyer is nice to hear, at any rate:

"An increasing nationwide trend to the nostalgic in Christmas decor reflects a harkening back to the good old days, perhaps as a retreat from today's fast-paced modernity," says Ernie Rowen.

Jefferson District To Apply for PACE

(Continued From Page 1) Morgan said it would involve not so much the underprivileged child but more the youngster who is not achieving what he should be.

A series of weekend outings are involved, he said, with parental approval.

"It is an opportunity," Morgan pointed out, "for us to take a look into this outdoor education field, along with some expert help."

The district has been invited to send a representative to a 1 p.m. Wednesday meeting in room 101 of the county government center in which the PACE planning committee will meet with Professor Richard De-charms of Washington University, St. Louis, Mo.

Project design development is anticipated at that session.

Representatives of several North County cities have been invited to hear the president of the Youth for Service board of trustees speak at 7:30 p.m., December 13, in the Jefferson High School cafeteria in Daly City.

Edward D. Morgan, Jefferson High School District superintendent, disclosed yesterday he had invited representatives of Brisbane, Daly City, Pacifica, the Broadmoor Police Department, and Jefferson High School and Elementary School Districts to attend the meeting.

Criticism Brings Greenwood Reply

program at the schools totals approximately $1,600.

The P-TA leader stated several weeks ago that the safety of children attending John F. Kennedy School is endangered because the district has failed to pave an adjacent street, necessitating the use of an asphalt playground for parking area access.

In the formal reply, the superintendent said the state finance department will not permit a school district "to dedicate more than one-half the land necessary to install a street."

"If a school district owns all the land needed for a street, as is the case in this instance, someone or some agency must purchase the other half from the district and pave it to the center line."

"An assessment district is being formed to complete Mollie Street and make other improvements, but to date it is not a reality."

"As a result of recent board action, the district will be able to proceed with the installation of half of one street from Market Street north to the school entrance, thus eliminating the hazard of vehicles on the playground."

The superintendent said the street should be completed within five weeks after the board authorizes advertisement for bids.

Greenwood covered a number of other charges in the statement, including an allegation by the P-TA leader that he personally "holds the people and children of East Daly City in contempt because of their socioeconomic position."

He claimed humble beginnings of his own, and said he has "nothing but contempt, for anyone who uses the excuse of poverty to detract from the efforts of those who are trying to assist such people."

"For reasons unknown to me, or at least which I am unable to prove, certain factions or groups within this community are attempting to literally tear this school district apart."

Greenwood closed his statement with a request that "every individual in the district put aside all peripheral considerations and join me in making this the finest elementary school district possible."

Council Is Rejecting Use Permits

business at 347 Eighty-eighth Street was also denied.

Two weeks ago City Atty. Paul Hupf was instructed by the council to draft a new home occupation ordinance which would, in effect, ban all home occupations in the city.

Several councilmen said the present ordinance was "too much of a headache" and they wanted to "clamp down on home occupations."

The revised ordinance drafted by Hupf has been sent to the planning commission for study and was expected to be brought up at the next regular meeting of the council on December 12.

Monday's denials were an apparent interim effort to halt the flow of home occupation use permits being brought before the council.

Mayor Albert Polonsky said the decision to deny these requests "was indeed difficult to make, but in order to protect the residential zoning of an area we must make these decisions."

In other action Monday night, the council approved the use permit request of the Standard Oil Co. to install seven signs at their new station in the Serramonte housing area.

The station will be located at the corner of Callan Boulevard and King Drive.

The assault charges were brought against the pair by Oakland authorities and stem from a shootout which followed the robbery with California Highway patrolmen on the Nimitz Freeway.

A preliminary hearing will be held next week.

Killaine, when first questioned, listed his occupation as "writer and lecturer," and Wolfe is listed as an "artist."

'Ambitious' Plan For Open Space

By FRANK LAPIERRE

An ambitious plan for preservation of San Mateo County's open space was presented to the Daly City public last week by the Regional Planning Commission's Parks and Open Space Committee.

Using dual projectors, numerous maps, and colored slides the public and city officials were painted a glowing picture of exactly how the county's land will be divided into scenic roads, waterways, camp grounds, and historic sites.

County staff planner Marty Boat informed the attentive audience of the dramatic growth of the Peninsula area during the next 25 years and warned "this land will not be available long, we must act soon."

The committee showed where the proposed recreational areas would be. And they explained why they were needed.

But they failed to answer an all-important question asked by Daly City Mayor Albert Polonsky:

Where's the money?

Where is the $133 million needed to complete the three-phased plan coming from?

The best source of money would be another bond, the group was told.

"The public is already bond-scarred," Daly City Councilman Michael R. DeBernardi said. "And in the near future we will be asked to pass bonds for sewers and possibly a rapid transit system."

Acquisition of a 315-acre recreational site for San Bruno Mountain will cost some $10 million, according to Boat, who called the staggering sum a "compromise figure."

The RCP considers San Bruno Mountain "one of our most important projects" and would include, in addition to the 315 acres developed site, a 2,500-acre open space area.

25-Year Plan

The plan would be developed over a period of 25 years, starting in 1970, Boat told the audience.

During that time, growth of the county was expected to more than double—to more than 900,000 people.

The biggest population jump was expected to occur in the presently near-deserted Coast-side areas.

Montara and neighboring Coastside cities now have a combined population of some 10,000. This figure will exceed 115,000 by 1990.

The heavily populated "urban belt" from Daly City down to Menlo Park which now has a population of some 460,000 would be crowded with more than 600,000 recreational-hungry people, according to Boat.

Along the bayfront, where 25,000 citizens have found homes, some 130,000 people will be housed along with industry and supporting businesses.

All these people will be demanding recreational areas within easy commuting distance, Boat said.

Other areas selected by the committee for development were Sweeney Ridge near San Bruno, the Crystal Springs watershed areas, and expansion of the present Juniper Serra Park facilities.

For All the People

"These things are for all the people," Boat pointed out, "not just to gain real estate for the county."

Four steps are needed to put the plan in operation: Land acquisition, conservation program (holding of the land once it is purchased), improvement, and staff operation.

A portion of the latter could

Nab Teeners On Scene As Car Stripped

Daly City police arrested two teen-agers for auto theft, less than two blocks from where a car was stolen.

Officers James Van Pelt and Harry Lax grabbed the boys while they were allegedly trying to remove parts from the engine of a car stolen minutes before from the Westmoor High School parking lot.

Police said a Westmoor student said he saw the pair break a window in the parked car and push it out of the lot.

When officers arrived they spotted the pair removing the battery from the car at the end of Zita Manor, they said.

The boys were taken to Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center.

DALY CITY COUNCILMAN Bernard "Bud" Lycett discusses regional planning problems with Sam Halstead, chairman of the San Mateo Regional Planning Committee during a meeting Saturday. 'Old Stick in the Mud'?

Buddies of 12-year-old George Bolling were today calling him an "Old stick in the mud" and for good reason.

Yesterday, while playing behind a Daly City home with a companion he plunged up to his waist in sticky mud and couldn't free himself.

His young friends' efforts to pull the boy from the pool of oozing muck also failed and police rescue units were called.

The screaming youth finally made it to safer ground and went ambling off towards his Grandview Avenue home as would be rescuers arrived on the scene.

Giant Army Helicopter Is Forced Down on Coast

A giant H-34 Army type helicopter with six persons aboard made a "bad weather" forced landing in Pacifica Monday less than one mile from the scene where a Navy salvage ship went aground last month.

"It's up to the Air Force what happens in Pacifica next," Al Ludwigsen, co-owner of the Pacific Honda Company laughingly told The Times shortly after the 'copter set down in his muddy backyard.

"First it was that Navy ship, now the Army has dropped in on us. We figure the Air Force will want to get in on the act next," Ludwigsen said. The helicopter was on a routine flight from Fort Ord to Crissy Field in San Francisco when Captain James Haynes decided to "scout around and land because of the extremely bad weather conditions along the coast."

Normally, the flight takes about an hour, according to pilot Haynes.

Aboard the military aircraft was WAC SP-4 Janette Henderson who was on special leave to get married in Olympia, Washington, later this week.

Miss Henderson explained she was anxious to get to her Olympia home and an obliging driver took her and two civilian aircraft mechanics to San Francisco.

Following a damp two hours on the ground, Captain Haynes gunned the helicopter's engine and, after one unsuccessful attempt to get airborne, gingerly lifted the craft into the skies.

The Captain said the Honda lot was spotted as he cautiously edged up the stormy coastline shortly before noon.

When he decided the weather was "too extreme to continue" preparations were made to set down in the small muddy field.

Ludwigsen and several motorcycle shop customers were startled to see the helicopter "buzz" the store at low altitude once and drop onto the cleared lot.

"At first I thought we might land in a school yard on the other side of the Cabrillo freeway, but changed my mind because the noise might disrupt classes there," Captain Haynes said.

Last month a salvaged Navy PE Destroyer beached in stormy weather near the Sharp Park Golf Course in Pacifica when a line snapped while it was being towed to San Diego for dismantling.

Woman Is Injured In S.S.F.

A South San Francisco woman was injured Wednesday night in an automobile accident on El Camino Real which police said was caused by a San Francisco woman attempting to change seats with a passenger in her car to avoid a license check.

Sherry L. Johnson, 213 Wildwood Drive, was treated for head lacerations at Kaiser Hospital and later released.

Police said the wreck occurred about 10:30 p.m. when Rita Ann Valleria, 500 Peru Street, San Francisco, attempted to change seats with Allen B. Pervis, a passenger in the front seat of her car.

Police were stopping drivers to check licenses, and several vehicles were parked in the southbound lane. The Valleria vehicle struck the rear of Miss Johnson's car, forcing it into the car in front. The front vehicle was driven by Joseph A. Pagano, 657 Newman Drive, South San Francisco.

Damages to the vehicles were estimated at several hundred dollars.

S.S.F. Cafe Is Held Up Second Time

The same pair of masked gunmen who held up the New Southern Restaurant in South San Francisco returned to the scene and made off with more than $1,700 after tying and gagging two employees early Monday morning, police report.

Police suspect the pair, one was wearing a Halloween mask and armed with a sawed-off shotgun and his partner masked with a woman's stocking pulled over his head, held up the well-known El Camino Real restaurant last Monday night after herding two employees into a restroom.

An undetermined amount of cash was taken in the earlier robbery. This morning, the pair followed the same route in entering the restaurant as they had last week — through the rear door.

Forcing bartender Guido Bachigalupi, 48, to lie face down on the floor behind the bar, one of the men lapped the employee's hands behind his back and stuffed a gag in his mouth.

After trussing up the bartender, the gunmen went into the restaurant's small office where co-owner Nicholas Sharra, 48, was counting the day's receipts. Gesturing with the shotgun, the masked gunman ordered Sharra to "give us all the money from the safe."

Shortly after the pair fled the restaurant, Bachigalupi worked himself free and ran into the street where he flagged down a passing police car.

The bartender told investigators one of the men walked into the restaurant shortly before closing, looked around and went to a telephone at the bar.

Apparently pretending to make a phone call, the man hung up and walked outside, returning in a few minutes with his partner, both wearing masks.

The gunmen were described as between 5 feet 9 inches and 6 feet tall, medium build and wearing dark clothing and black gloves.

D.C.'s Lycett Named To Commerce Center Unit

Daly City Councilman Bernard Lycett was named chairman of a 12-man task force which will undertake review of Pacific Air Commerce Center's huge development plan involving 4,750 acres and eight miles of San Mateo County shoreline.

Unveiling of PACC's proposal before an overflow audience in San Mateo City Hall last week revealed the following details about the plan: Virtually the entire area is presently under water now at high tide. PACC would develop industrial and commercial areas adjacent to the airport and Foster City, allowing 1,000 recreational acres of the central project (roughly the size of Golden Gate Park) to be developed by public agencies.

Six hundred acres of San Bruno Mountain are "irrevocably committed" to PACC. Distance from the present mud line to the outermost point of fill would be a mile and a quarter.

Source of fill would include dredge material from the Bay and San Bruno Mountain. The Bay Conservation and Development Commission has ultimately jurisdiction over the project.

PACC holds an additional 7,000 submerged acres south of the present proposal from the San Mateo-Hayward Bridge to the county line.

PACC will not proceed without public acceptance, and following approval it would begin with industrial development and adjacent to the airport, the 500 submerged acres beyond the present Anza-Pacific property in Burlingame.

Of the total 4,750 acres involved, PACC owns 2,700 acres, the balance being held by the county of San Mateo (Coyote Point Park and Harbor), Anza-Pacific, and Foster City.

PACC, represented by Martin Lindquist, was first formed in 1963 to develop an air cargo center at International Airport; it is a joint venture of Crocker Land Company, Ideal Cement Company, David Rockefeller and Associates, and La Freres.

Daly City Lions Essay Event Set

Municipal Judge Frank B. Blum, Samuel Chandler, head librarian, Daly City library, and Paul Perez, employment coordinator on the staff of Jefferson High School District, will locally serve as a three-man judging panel for the Lions International Golden Anniversary $50,000 Peace Essay contest, Joseph Mottola said yesterday.

Mottola, president, Daly City-Colma Lions' Club, also announced that essays emanating from Daly City, Colma, and Broadmoor, will be personally screened and graded by Patrick G. Gleeson, professor of Creative Writing, San Francisco State College.

Professor Gleeson said that after he had screened and graded all essays coming from the Daly City, Colma, and Broadmoor area, the top ten would be passed over to Judges Blum, Chandler and Perez. They make a final selection of one essay and the writer of it will immediately receive a $50 prize from the Daly City-Colma Lions' Club.

The winning local essay then advances to the Lions' District 4-C4 level of judging. District 4-C4 embraces 14 Lion clubs in San Francisco and 21 clubs in San Mateo County.

A total of $50,000 in awards will be made including a first prize of $25,000 in educational and/or career assistance grant, eight semi-finalist awards of $1,000 each, plus travel expenses to Chicago for these semi-finalists in July, 1967.

At that time, the international first prize winner will be selected from the eight. Also more than 20,000 local, district and multiple district awards will be made.

Judging will be conducted on a club, district and multiple district level before reaching world division appraisal. The contest, largest peace essay contest in the world today, is open to young people who are 14 years of age and under 22 as of January 15, 1967.

Said Lion President Mottola, "Further details of the contest may be obtained from any member of the Daly City-Colma Lions' Club, or me, at Joseph's Photography, 6336 Mission Street, Daly City, phone WY 2-3434."

Only about ten days remain for writers to complete essays. Closing date for entries is December 10, this year and judging for the Daly City-Colma Lions' Club entries will begin soon thereafter, Mottola said. Entries should be mailed to P.O. Box 706, Daly City.

4 Westmoor Girls Held on Drug Count

Four teen-age Westmoor High School girls were arrested last week and charged by Daly City police with using marijuana.

The girls, ranging in age from 15 to 17 years, were called out of classes and quietly taken from the school to Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center.

Detective Lt. John Walsh said investigation of the use of marijuana by students at Westmoor started some three weeks ago "and was expected to continue until we have cleared the matter up."

Less than two weeks ago, some 30 students attending Crestmoor High School in San Bruno were found to be using the drug.

"This investigation (at Westmoor) is continuing and at present we are unable to say if others are involved or not," Walsh said.

No drugs were found on the girls, and they did not appear to be under the influence of marijuana at the time of their arrest, Walsh said.

School Named For Savage

The new seventh and eighth grade complex at St. Francis Boulevard and Clarinda Avenue in Daly City will be known as the William J. Savage School.

Jefferson Elementary School District trustees, though not unanimously, selected the name Monday night.

Savage was the Jefferson District's first superintendent.

Westlake Baptist Gives Sunday Sermon Topics

"The Privileges of Sonship" is the sermon topic for the December 4, 11 a.m. Morning Worship Hour at Westside Baptist Church of San Bruno. This is another in a series of messages from Paul's first letter to the church at Corinth.

Special music for this service will be provided by the Westside Mixed Quartette, Mrs. Betty Swanson, Miss Donna Wallin, Bob and Bill Anderson. During the last half of the adult worship hour, Miss Donna Wallin conducts the Primary Church service for primary and kindergarten age school children.

A nursery is provided for babies and toddlers. Sunday Church School at Westside Baptist Church meets at 9:45 a.m. There are twelve Bible-centered, age-graded classes, and the school is formed with the entire family in mind, a class for every age. During this class period, several departments will be rehearsing for the coming Sunday School Christmas program.

Pastor Donnelly is leading a Pastor's Class for adults and youth. The purpose of the class is information, inspiration and fellowship. It is designed for those who desire to know what it means to be a Christian; the ordinances of the Baptist Church; how to become a member of the local church; and a brief history of the Baptist General Conference.

Sunday evening at 7 Family Fellowship Gospel Hour, the ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed. Pastor Donnelly will bring a communion devotion "The Lord's Supper." At this service, the right hand of church fellowship will be extended to Randy Anderson.

Congregational singing will be led by Bill Anderson, and the brass ensemble will bring the special music. At both Sunday services, Mrs. Jeanne King will be at the console of the organ.

Thursday, at 9:30 a.m., the Women's Bible Class meets at the home of Mrs. Clayton Anderson, 3691 Exeter Drive, San Bruno. That evening at 7, at the home of Mrs. Ann Besser, 500 Del Monte, South San Francisco, Girl's Missionary Guild, an organization for girls, sponsored by the Women's Missionary Society, meets. Mrs. Jeanne King is assisting Mrs. Besser now in the program.

Wednesday, November 30, 7:45 p.m., Prayer and Bible Study group meets at the church parsonage, 3370 Longview Drive, San Bruno. Westside Baptist hold Sunday services at 2322 Crestmoor Drive, San Bruno.

Rev. Tweedie Announces Sermon Topic

The sermon subject is "Lift Up Your Voice" this Sunday at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. worship services at Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, Daly City.

The sermon is taken from the fortieth chapter of Isaiah in emphasizing the growing need to proclaim the good news of Biblical revelation in a world of exploding population growth and ignorance concerning God's truth and salvation, according to Rev. Herbert C. Tweedie, pastor.

The special music at the 9:30 service is a solo by Wesley, "Come Thou Long Expected Jesus," sung by Barbara Green. At 11 o'clock the Chancel Choir sings "Ho! Little Brother," by Hudson. Infant care is provided during both worship services with Sunday Schools at 9:30 and 11 a.m.

B'nai B'rith Officers Are Elected

At the recent semi-annual meeting of Congregation B'nai Israel the following were elected to serve as officers and trustees for the 1967 year: president, Wolf Schlesinger; first vice president, Henry Baum; second vice president, Leon Benson; third vice president, Stanley Fisher; secretary, Mrs. Werner Snyder; treasurer, Arthur Hirschhorn; trustees, Morton Dobrow, Norman Friedberg, Albert Marcus, Leonard Mayer and Irving Podolsky. Out-going president, Gary Kroner has appointed Julius Michaelis as installation ceremonies chairman.

Other appointments included federal funds and the district to receive credit for $1,065 for the use of facilities and staff time. If approved, the program will offer health and food services as well as directed learning experiences.

Guest Preacher At Aldersgate

Dr. Ram Dutt Joshi, of India, will be the guest preacher at Aldersgate Methodist Church in South San Francisco on December 4 at the 11 a.m. service.

Dr. Joshi was born in the Himalayas in a small village, Dwashat. His parents were converts from Brahman caste.

His education includes college work at St. Andrews College, Gorakhpur. Graduate work in theology at the Leonard Theological College, Jabalpur. Theological degree received from Serampore College in Bengal. His Doctor's degree was received at Boston University where he met the Aldersgate minister, the Rev. Gilbert H. Vieira, who was doing his graduate work there.

In 1943 he was appointed on staff of Methodist Theological Seminary in Bareilly, and served two terms as a district superintendent.

Other appointments included conference secretary and treasurer, president of several Junior Colleges, secretary of the Methodist Education Service.

Last year he was appointed educational secretary for the entire Methodist Church in Southern Asia which calls for general supervision of all educational work of the Methodist Church, youth work, Sunday School, adult education, and literacy.

Dr. Joshi is returning from serving as official observer at the recent special General Conference of the Methodist Church in Pittsburgh. He also served at the last General Conference of the Church in the U.S.

Nursery care will be provided during the service and a coffee hour follows.

Church school hour is from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. for nursery through adults.

Laguna School Officials Ask Head Start Program

Laguna Salada School District Supt. Frederick Lucas has asked trustees to authorize the district's participation with the San Mateo County Human Resources Commission in applying for a Head Start program in the Westview area for the summer of 1967.

The district has co-operated in the writing of a proposal for a Head Start program for approximately 20 children in the Westview area.

In his request for authorization of the district's participation, Lucas states the program conducted during the summer of 1966 gave "indication that this type program can help children be more successful in formal school experiences and proved extremely beneficial to those who participated."

Lucas said an application has been submitted to the human resources commission and to the regional office of economic opportunity. The budget for the project has been set at $6,709, as well as directed learning experiences.

Passing Was Key For Cap

By GARRY NIVER
Post Sports Writer

When Carl Reyna is happy, every Capuchino High School player is happy.

And so it was last week as the Mustangs devastated a proud Mills aggregation, 34-0, before a raucous overflow throng at Burlingame High field to win the 1966 Mid-Peninsula League football title.

The jubilant Cap team doubled each other when the final gas sounded, while such giddy Vike players, such as defensive standout Rich Rackenbush, came across the field to congratulate the new champs.

"Your passing was just too much for us," Mills head man Jim Cox stated to Cap coach Gordy Young after congratulating him.

He was dead right as Cap amassed 214 yards through the airwaves and four touchdowns.

"After the first game with them, we found that their pass defense was weak so we decided to exploit it to the fullest," replied Young.

Young, who was being besieged by congratulating alumni and happy parents, singled out the offensive play of Costanzo and Kauffman, and the pass blocking of Dan Mahle.

"Costanzo played very well and called an excellent game," Young added. "And Jimmy (Kauffman) gave us his all just as he has the entire season," the former Stanford glider continued.

"It feels awfully good, awfully good," Young beamed when asked how it felt to be the champions.

Assistant coach Vince Marchi, who was brushing some turf off his dark blue suit after being hugged by an overwhelmed Cap glider, pointed out the defensive standstill which held Mills' inviolate back to just 39 yards on the ground.

"Mark Andrews, Dan Ganong, Doug Freeman and Greg Hargis were tremendous in stopping those Mills' runners," Marchi stated.

On the Cap side of the field the band finished playing the school hymn and the players were greeted with a resounding "we're number one" from the Caproaders.

And indeed they were in the MPL on Thanksgiving Day, 1966.

NPL Teams Are Evenly Matched

North Peninsula League basketball dominated last year by undefeated South San Francisco, who will be a more even proposition this season due to the absence of the Warriors' powerful front line.

South San Francisco coach Bill Turcell lost every member of the championship first team, and at least four other North County schools are expected to be in the running this year.

Westmoor High, winner of the league championship during its last three years of existence, will be a strong contender again this year, along with Jefferson High, El Camino, Terra Nova and the Warriors.

Probably, the most outstanding player returning to league basketball this season is Jefferson's Willie Redman, one of the high scorers in the county last year and an All-NPL choice.

The Indians will also be relying on Lou Mitterici, an all-league "B" team choice last season.

Coach Mike Offich said the team is not outstanding in height, but "is looking pretty good speed."

Mitterici tied with El Camino for the second place in league standing last season, with a 6-4 record.

Terra Nova, considered another top contender for this year's league honors, will begin the season with a new varsity coach, Don DeLeon, and a veteran

Mills High School defender Al Giacosa (82) bats the ball away from prospect receiver Dennis Diestler in yesterday's championship game at Burlingame High School field. His efforts went in vain as Cap rolled to a 34-0 victory and the Mid-Peninsula League title.

S.S.F. Warriors Dominate 1966 'All-NPL' Team

By GARRY NIVER
Post Sports Writer

A team which set a school scoring record and won its third straight championship dominated the 22-man All-North Peninsula League team as selected by the NPL coaches last week.

South San Francisco High School, a grid power whose fame is of common knowledge in the wide state of California, took the lion's share of the berths on the team with nine places, leaving the other six schools in the loop 13 places to carve up.

The Warriors also grabbed coach and back of the year honors, with popular head mentor Ray DeJong gaining the coach honors and junior halfback Russ Cottrell gaining the top back award.

"This was a real good team this year. It is difficult to say enough about them," DeJong stated. "We scored 287 points on offense, which is two more points scored than any other Warrior team in history," he added.

DeJong wouldn't compare

Cottrell with former All-American halfback Greg Jones, but did say that he was happy to have the 9.8 hundred power runner back next year.

"I think that we can find a spot for him on the team and we might even work in a few plays where he can carry the ball," DeJong facetiously quipped.

DeJong, while heaping prize on his young charges, also gave huge credit to assistant coaches Marv Ashby, Bob Warfield, Bud Goins and Sam Bonnano. The Warriors hold Northern California's longest unbeaten streak at 28 games.

The Colts, who lost in the championship game to South S.F., 27-0, nabbed six berths on the all-league team, which was broken down into offensive and defensive squads.

Guard Larry Jewett and Charlie Nelson, up from last year's "B" team, are among the more promising prospects at this point, Warren said.

El Camino coach Warren Hagberg lost most of the team which shared the number two position in the league with Jefferson last season.

Hagberg said Bill Godkin, a junior who played regularly as a sophomore during the latter part of the season last year, will be a mainstay in the El Camino front line.

"We will have a young team, generally speaking, with 10 out of 15 players, juniors this year," Hagberg said.

Gary Ormsby from Sacramento will wheel the AA-fuel Chrysler dubbed the "Vagabond" through its paces as another of the 200 mph potential machines set to race at Fremont.

FREMONT — Rich Bruckman of South San Francisco has had a habit of winning the money at Fremont Drag Strip in recent months, and tomorrow he'll be out to try for the top prize with a new AA-fuel dragster. The Perkins and Bruckman Chrysler powered car is just one of many signed for action at the track.

Cap Crushes Mills, Takes League Title

By GARRY NIVER
Post Sports Writer

The gridiron at Burlingame High School is listed as the official San Mateo District field, but there will always be some controversy as to whom it really belongs to following Thanksgiving Day, 1966.

For a hustling group of boys from San Bruno, who all claim membership in the Capuchino High School student body, etched the name of their alma mater on the turf frontwards, sideways and every which way yesterday in claiming the Mid-Peninsula League championship from Mills with a 34-0 victory.

They left no doubt as to who is the best team in the MPL as the Mustangs of Coach Gordy Young scored in every quarter and thwarted every offensive thrust which the game Vikings could throw at them.

The decisive victory reversed an earlier 43-34 victory by Mills and gave the Cappers sole possession of the 1966 crown. Cap had tied for the regular season title with a 5-1 mark and then breezed past Hillsdale and Mills in the play-offs.

Gaining momentum with every step, the Mustangs made few mistakes in annexing the title. The potent offense, spearheaded by quarterback Mike Costanzo, flanker Jimmy Kauffman and end Dennis Diestler, joined ranks with the tenacious defense, led by Mark Andrews, Don Ganong and Doug Freeman, to completely befuddle and strip the Vikes of their confidence.

An overflow crowd of 6,000 people watched as Costanzo teamed up with halfback Mike Mathis for a six-yard TD flip over with 5:16 remaining in the first period to start the scoring parade.

Defensive linemen Mike Wynn and Jerry Bruno made it 8-0 just after the outset of the second quarter when they dropped punter Pat Ramirez in the end zone for a safety while the latter was attempting to kick.

The fleet-footed Kauffman, who has played five different positions on the Mustang team during the course of the season, got behind the Mills' secondary and hauled in a 19-yard scoring aerial from Costanzo to make it 14-0.

The Cap defense was so fierce that Mills was unable to gain a first down until there was 5:32 left in the first half. And Mills could only muster 38 total yards offense in the first two quarters.

Mills was well on its way to a score just before the half ended when the Vikes moved the ball down to the Cap one-yard line.

However, on second down halfback Doug McKay had the ball jarred loose while diving into a pile of players. Cap's Dan Mahle came up with the pigskin on the two-yard line and Mills lost its only golden scoring chance.

In the second half the Tangs picked up right where they left off, pouncing on a Vike fumble on the latter's 27-yard stripe. It took Cap just two plays to tally another score, with Kauffman taking another 19-yard scoring aerial from the on-target Costanzo. Mahle ran the point-after over to make it 21-0 with 8:40 left in the third period.

Doing what is right every way possible, the San Bruno lads then took over the ball on their own nine-yard line and launched a scoring sortie which covered 91 yards in 11 plays. Costanzo connected on his fourth touchdown pass of the afternoon, hitting Diestler with a 30-yard TD toss to conclude the drive.

Defensive end Greg Hargis put the capper on Cap's scoring when he intercepted a Terry Barr missile on his own 40-yard line and rambled 60 yards down the sideline for a touchdown.

A HOT TENNIS SECTION
BOSTON —New England tennis boosters claim that the area supports more tournaments than any other section in the country. There are 143 tournaments scheduled in the six-state area this summer.

Williams To Play Forward

With only one returning letterman off last year's second place squad, College of San Mateo Basketball Coach Jack Avina faces the problem of building a group of eager freshman prospects and former college players into a working unit before the season opener, December 1.

Guard Owey Williams, a second team all-Golden State Conference star last season and darkhorse all-state candidate this year, will lead the Bulldogs again, but from a forward spot.

Avina has moved his prolific 6-1 scorer from Daly City to the front court in order to benefit from his rebounding talents and to get a pair of frosh backcourt hopefuls, Art Edge and Mark Fenske, into the starting line-up.

This trio, along with high school All-American Cyris Dempsey, have pretty much sewed up starting berths.

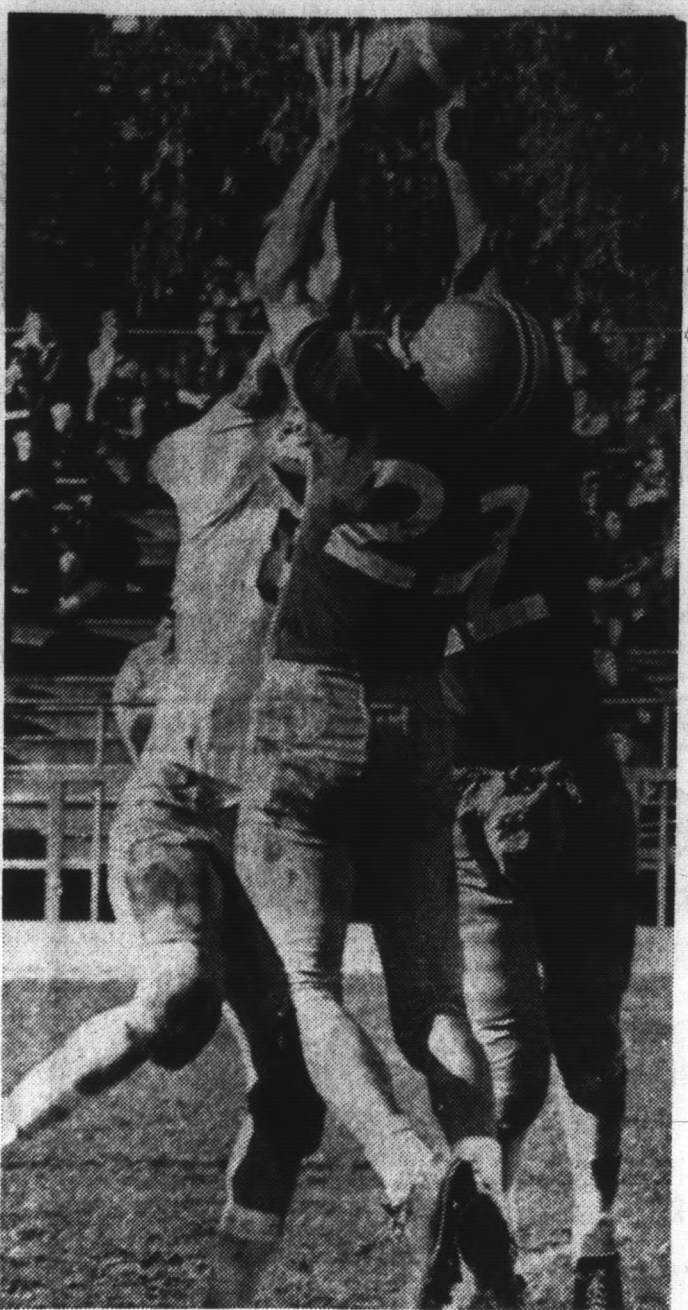

Dempsey, who was a frosh star at the University of Santa Clara two years ago, is fighting the effects of a year away from the hardwood.

The 6-7 forward starred for two years at Bellarmine Prep School in San Jose and was named to the Coaches' All-American team after his senior year. His single game high efforts include 40 points in one contest and 29 rebounds twice.

Fenske and Edge are two fine ball-handlers who should fit well in Avina's plans. The 5-11 Fenske tied a San Mateo County single game scoring record with 43 points for hillsdale High last year. He was the Mid-Peninsula League's Most Valuable Player and the league's leading scorer.

Fenske, along with Williams, gives the Bulldogs some fine outside shooting talent. The former is exceptional from the free throw line.

Edge is a lanky 6-1 star from Ravenswood High School where he was an all-South Peninsula Athletic League choice last season. He is a fine defensive player, built along the lines of former University of San Francisco star, Joe Ellis.

Capuchino High School's Jimmy Kauffman (23) goes up with fellow defender Jerry Neary (22) to disrupt the flight pattern of Mills High School quarterback Mike Barr's pass. Kauffman accounted for two interceptions yesterday as the Mustangs throttled Mills, 34-0, for the Mid-Peninsula League championship.

Can it really carry as much as we say?

Ask the man who borrows one.

The man on the right owns a conventional station wagon.

It's got twice the style of a Volkswagen Station Wagon, but only about half the carrying space.

So when he has more to carry than his wagon can handle in one trip, a trip next door can save him a trip.

(Our wagon has an unusually high roof, and an unusually wide 4' door in its side.)

But then maybe you don't live next door to a Volkswagen Station Wagon. In that case, you might want to buy one.

The Deluxe Model has 21 windows and a sliding sunroof. It seats 9 comfortably. It gets around 23 miles to the gallon. Its tires will last for about 35,000 miles. And it parks in 4' less space than most conventional wagons.

Of course, if for some reason you can't buy one, there's always the next best thing

... talk your neighbor into buying one.

'Hub Of

Le Pacini

Swanson's Westlake Bowl has often been called the hub of Daly City recreation and social activity, and if that is a truism then it must be said that owner Johnny Swanson is the hub of the hub, and you follow that to its logical conclusion.

Swanson wasn't always as active as he is now. He was more active. He may be the only athlete in the history of the world who ever lettered in every sport offered by both his high school and college.

AT MISSION High School in San Francisco he was an All-city halfback and starred in everything else. At USF in the '30's he was a good enough halfback to be offered a Philadelphia Eagle contract (which was withdrawn when he broke his leg in his senior year,) and also lettered in such varied sports as rugby, tennis, golf, track, basketball, and whatever else he could get into when he wasn't running a concession stand which was to later develop into a livelihood.

The stand was part of a scholarship deal handed to Johnny when he was a freshman. It carried such sundry items as candy, stationery, cigarettes, notebooks, or, as a sign on the counter read, "If you don't see it ask for it, we'll get it for you."

As it turned out Swanson must have had loads of requests because, as a partner of the Jesuits, he was making $50 a day during those depression years.

At USF Swanson played with and against a veritable textbook of great athletes, a list which would extend beyond the boundaries of this column. Perhaps his proudest game in sports occurred the night in 1934 when he was assigned to guard Stanford's great Hank Lucetti and held the legendary shotmaker to the lowest single game mark of his collegiate career—four points.

IN THE MEANTIME, Swanson was branching out to other such businesses, including ownership of the famed Mission Bowl. Like most young men in the '40's he was drafted. He started out in the infantry but ended up in Special Services playing sports, also with and against an all-star cast.

Upon army graduation he continued with the Mission Bowl and his other enterprises and in 1958 built Westlake Bowl.

Swanson's gathered many cherished non-sporting memories over the colorful years. "I started Gene McAteer in politics," he says of the California State Senator, who was also, incidentally, a great athlete. "I'm the guy who nominated him for eighth grade president at Everett Junior High and student body president at Mission High, and he won both of them."

One of Swanson's oldest friends and golfing partners is a singer from Burlingame named Bing Crosby. He met him the way you would imagine meeting Crosby... casually.

"We had played Gonzaga in their Homecoming Game and Crosby had attended the game, his first homecoming since graduation. I came back on the train with him and didn't recognize him. He sat down and asked if he could have breakfast with me. And I'm talking to him for a while, a few minutes, and then I realize that it's Bing Crosby. We've been friends ever since."

AND AS REPORTED by Frank LaPierre recently in The Post, it was Swanson who played that round of golf with Governor Pat Brown on the day he lost to Ronnie Reagan, the Gipper.

Swanson's gotten a tremendous satisfaction out of his bowling alleys and the part bowling now plays in American fitness. He cites a study done by President Kennedy's Youth Fitness Council.

"Bowling, they figure, is the number one prerequisite to fitness because it has a lifetime carryover. It's sport which requires the type of agility which a person can retain virtually throughout his lifetime. Historically, it was discovered by the foundation, many of the sports they'd been teaching kids were the wrong kinds of sports because they weren't the types of sports that could be utilized after, say, 30 or so years of age. They consequently discovered many people become psychos at that age because they don't have anything to do when they get to that age, they don't know what to do with their free time."

"The upshot of the investigation was that they found there were fewer nuts in bowling alleys than in almost any other area of society."

Well friends, considering that yours truly has never bowled, perhaps it's time to move into another subject.

OTHER LOCAL NOTES: Somehow, the All-NPL lightweight basketball teams didn't make The Post last week, so we'll snatch up the gonfalon and make amends. On the first team in the C division were Scott Alves (Oceana, second in league in scoring with 17.9 average), Ken Camoirano (SSF, first in scoring at 19.2), Andre Finch (Jeff), Roland Velezquez (El Camino) and Ken Duarte (Westmoor). On the second squads were Terra Nova's John Premenko and Gary Hernandez, South City's Angelino Kemp and Ken Conner, Mike Mason of Westmoor and Dale Conway of Jefferson. Rich Barrett of TN and Jeff Morganti of Oceana received honorable mentions.

A GOOD QUOTE we heard somewhere (about football): "Defense is desire, offense is technique."

THE CELTICS are now if anything more relatively powerful than the Yankees ever were, picking off the best "sleepers" in rookies and trading reserves (such as Mel Counts) for solid front line strength (such as Billy Howell), but there's never been a whisper of, "Break up the Celtics."

WITH ALL THE FUROR over who should have gone to the Rose Bowl (we think UCLA should have but knew USC would because the Pac-eight voters are never logical) or whether or not Parsagian should have gone for the win (if he really felt his team was the best in the country he should have,) no one mentioned a thing about UCLA student body spirit.

With all the concern these days over beatniks on campus and the waning of good old die for Sewash spirit, Bruin students thought enough of the Rose Bowl slighting of their team to riot in the streets, and if that isn't a healthy sign of red blooded Americanism, we don't know what is.

Records Set in D.C. Hill Run:
41 Contestants Complete CourseSan Jose State Runner
Wins Open Division

Last Saturday the Daly City Recreation Department conducted its first annual AAU Daly City Hill Run. The tough seven-mile course which started at Colma School, continued to the top of San Bruno Mountain and back down, proved to be a challenging and interesting run for the 41 contestants who participated in the marathon.

Approximately 200 fans gathered around the finish line to cheer the runners as they completed the run. Mayor Al Polonsky was on hand to congratulate each runner and present the winners with their awards.

Course records were set in both the Open Division and High School Division. Winning the Open Division was Jim Sullivan from San Jose State College, who turned in the top time of 38:06.6 minutes. Pat Shane from Brigham Young University placed second while Greg Chapman from the Solano Track Club notched third.

In the High School Division, Bob Crow from Armijo High School (Fairfield) placed first with a record time of 38:36. Right behind Crow was Steve Yost (unattached) who came in second and Santos Reynaga from Wilcox High School, who came in third.

Westlake Bowl

The Canco League again provided the high series of the night last Monday as Ed Bunke improved with each game. After shooting a 194 first game, he rolled a 200 second game and finished with a great 245 final effort for a 629 series.

December 10, Westlake Bowl will celebrate its eighth anniversary. There will be match games, a Birthday Blue Chip Special, dan 3, and a mid-night public buffet.

The Junior 900 team took one victory from the first place Hoffman Plumbing team last Sunday as Barry Brown posted a 205 game and 568 series. Other scores were: Gary Pollack 186-543, John Avakian 188-510, Craig Headman 153-457 and Cory Born 191-434.

WESTLAKE Wedlock's bowlers for the week were Ann Clifford with a 190 game and 465 series and Lou G-lli who posted a big 243 game and 607 series.

Three Telco bowlers hit the 600 level, but barely last Friday night. Wes Westfall led the scoring with 214-601 while Tom Franza and Hank Clett both hit the 600 mark right on the nose.

Topping the Lucky Lager League for the week were Christine Maxfield with 176-512 and Phil Blahm with a 222 game and 561 series.

Diane Simonato won 2,400 Blue Chip stamps Thursday to become the day's biggest winner. Other ladies taking home stamps for the afternoon were Eleanor Engemann 660, Micki

A GIANT REUNION

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Eddie Brannick, secretary of the San Francisco Giants, had a perfect advantage point from The Olympic Club clubhouse during the final round of the U.S. Open golf championship.

There was no fear of him being asked to leave an off limits spot because Joe Orongo, wearing the red blazer of an official, was the security officer in charge. Orongo was an infielder with the New York Giants in 1941 and 1943 when Brannick was the team's traveling secretary.

Orongo, who saw duty in 366 major league games, with the Cardinals, Giants, Dodgers, Tigers and White Sox, is now an assistant sales manager for a San Francisco car dealer.

Ellis 950, Carmen Letwetzou 400 and Dot Mize 500.

B'nai B'rith Bowler of the week was Carl Davis who rolled a 211 game and 578 series.

In the Friendship Mixed League, Dorothy Enos led the ladies with 157 and 449 as Dennis Dougherty topped the men with a 184 game and 487 series.

WEDNESDAY morning found Doris Barros leading the ladies of the Morning Glory League with 194-563 with Rose Intaschi taking second place. High game for the week went to Gloria Gaggiano for a 215. Mary Jane D'Orazi converted the "almost impossible" 4-6 split, Billy Kemp 5-7 and Billie Dan the 5-10.

A great 638 series by Joe Fazzino in the Lakeside Mixed Fives League stole the limelight Monday night. Joy rolled a great 245 first game followed by games of 189 and 207. Leading the ladies was Rowena Delucchi with a 190 game and 547 series.

More and more Westlake bowlers are making plans to spend "New Year's Eve at the Bowl" by making reservations for the annual "fun package" which runs from 7 p.m. to 4 a.m. and includes a steak dinner, dancing, cocktails, snacks, bowling and billiards. Tickets are limited and may be obtained from Westlake Bowl employees at $15.

Chris Parnello led the Southwest Handicap League for the week, shooting a 224 game and 590 series.

Herb Suhr "spoiled" a 200 triplicate series by shooting a 233 third game to lead the Golden Gate Handicap League for the week.

John Brodie continued his winning ways as he led the 275 Scratch League Friday night then led the Family Fours Sunday morning. Friday he had a 234 game and 639 series while Sunday he had another 234 game and 630 series.

JOB OPEN

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI)—The University of Idaho is searching for a new basketball coach to replace Jim Goddard, who resigned to take an administrative post with the state Department of Education in Oregon.

Goddard resigned after posting a 25-23 record in three seasons.

Last Wednesday the Benjamin Franklin Seventh Grade football team hosted Taylor School from Millbrae and defeated them 26-12.

Taylor opened the scoring when they returned the opening kick-off for the game's first touchdown. The conversion failed. Benjamin Franklin came back with their first TD on a pass from quarterback Bob McLennan to Gary Stoller to tie the score and went ahead on a pass from McLennan to end Jim Woods who made an outstanding over-the-head catch.

Ben Franklin scored again in the second quarter on a pass and lateral from Woods to back Steve Murray who went 60 yards for the TD to give the Falcons a 13-6 halftime lead.

Taylor scored again in the third quarter to make it 13-12 and again missed the conversion. Ben Franklin came back on another pass by quarterback McLennan to Steve Murray who went 30 yards for the score. In the fourth quarter, Ben Franklin scored the final tally when McLennan threw another pass, this time to Al Abbott, to give a final score of 26-12. Ben

D.C. Yuletide Tourney Planned

The Daly City Department of Recreation announces that entry blanks for the fifth Annual High School Christmas Yuletide Basketball Tournament are now available from the Physical Education Departments of Westmoor and Jefferson High Schools and at the War Memorial Community Center.

The tournament is scheduled to open Monday, December 19 and continue for a possible five more nights, depending on the number of entries. The other dates would be Tuesday, December 20, Wednesday, December 21 and continue the next week, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, December 26, 27 and 28. Games will begin either at 5:15 or 6:15 p.m.

This tournament is open to all high school boys attending school in Daly City or living in Daly City and not competing on varsity or junior varsity basketball teams.

Boys are encouraged to organize teams of their friends and enter the tournament. Deadline for entry will be Wednesday, December 14 at 5:00 p.m. at the War Memorial Community Center.

Additional information regarding the tournament can be obtained by contacting Mickey Corso at the recreation department.

The department is also taking signups for a Co-ed Adult Volleyball League to be held at the War Memorial Community Center on Monday evenings beginning December 5.

An entry fee of $1.50 per couple will be charged. Teams will be made up of no more than 5 couples and no less than 3 couples. All interested persons should sign up with Jack Campbell, Recreation Leader, at the War Memorial Community Center any week night between 7 and 10. Deadline for entries will be Friday.

Coast Recreation Dept. Sets Events

The Pacific Park Beach and Recreation Department announced that November 21 was the last Co-Rec held at Oceana High School. Starting on Wednesday, December 7, a Co-Rec Drop-In program featuring a band practice session will be held in the Oceana Gym from 7 to 9 p.m. This will be a weekly affair, and those bands wishing to sign-up for practice time may do so by contacting the Recreation and Park Department.

Due to some recent attendance lack, the Monday night Co-Rec at Terra Nova will be discontinued after November 28. Those people interested in maintaining the program should attend the last scheduled meeting on November 28 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Terra Nova Gym.

A J-Teen is scheduled for December 3. Included in the afternoon's activities will be volleyball, indoor softball, badminton, ping pong and dancing. Refreshments will be served. Only members of Pacifica J-Teen Clubs will be admitted. Those wishing to join J-Teens may do so at the door.

A J-Teen Snow Trip is planned for December 17. It will be an all-day excursion to a ski area. Sign-ups and registration will be taken at the Recreation Department Office, City Hall.

The Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Department's fifth annual Christmas Do-It-Yourself Show is being held Friday through Tuesday. The event will include displays of Christmas gifts and decoration ideas and demonstrations. A door and window decorating contest will be held on Friday, from 7 to 10 p.m.; Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m., and Monday and Tuesday, 7 to 10 p.m. Participants may enter items in the show by bringing them to the Community Room at the library.

Due to early darkness the playgrounds will be closing at 5 p.m. every day instead of the usual 5:30 p.m.

NEW STEELER — Rookie Ron Meyer, who set 18 passing records at South Dakota State, joined Pittsburgh from the Steeler taxi squad Tuesday after the National Football League team asked waivers on veteran quarterback George Izo.

Playboys In Lead Over Mac's Men

At the halfway mark the Daly City Playboys lead the Adult Hunch Basketball league with a perfect 5-0 record.

The Half Pints were victim number five in last week's contest by a score of 40-21. Roy Reitz tanked 14 points. Jim Francis 12, Rich Reitz eight and Dave Barry six. Jim Caruso led the Half Pints attack with eight.

Mac's Men, who hold down second place with a 4-1 record, dumped the local gendarmes 40-31.

Puzzle Over Ten Chinese At International Airport

The mystery surrounding the imprisonment of ten Chinese nationals in heavily guarded rooms of the International Inn in South San Francisco deepened today.

Local police departments would say nothing concerning the matter and airlines' officials have been asked by the ship's agents, International Shipping Co., not to give out information.

The Times has learned, however, that four of the crewmen, accused of mutinous action aboard the vessel, left San Francisco Airport this morning via Pan American flight one bound for Tokyo and Taipei.

The remaining crewmen are via Pan Am sometime today for Tokyo, an airlines spokesman said.

The Chinese, crew members of the freighter Grand Integrity, were brought to the motel under armed guard late last night on a bus from Portland, Ore.

The Formosa-based freighter was recently rocked by a series of bomb blasts which killed the ship's captain and a crewman off Portland.

A motel spokesman said the four private guards — supplied by the shipping company — and the crewmen were not registered at the Inn. Arrangements for their stay were made from Portland, Ore.

The men are accused of attempting to take over the grounded vessel shortly after the blasts.

"As long as the company takes the responsibility of insuring their departure from the United States, the federal government will not intervene," the airline's spokesman, who asked his identity not be revealed, told The Times.

Suspects Held In Holiday Inn Raid

Two men picked up in Seattle, laughing, courteous bandits at were booked at San Mateo County jail at midnight last night for the armed robbery of the Holiday Inn last October 31.

In jail are Robert Blaine Wolfe, 24, of Medford, Ore., listed as an artist, and James William Killaine, 24, of Alameda, listed as a writer and lecturer. Killaine gave as the person to notify in an emergency Richard Korn, professor of criminology at University of California, Berkeley.

Wolfe and Killaine were arrested in Seattle by Det. Sgt. Jack Rhoades and Det. Jim Keane of the South San Francisco police department.

The Holiday Inn in South San Francisco was held up by two men, laughing, courteous bandits at were booked at San Mateo County jail at midnight last night for the armed robbery of the Holiday Inn last October 31.

The car sped through the toll gates. Bridge guards fired shotguns at the car and the pursuing patrolmen engaged in a gun battle while speeding along the Nimitz Freeway at up to 100 miles an hour. The car made a skidding turn on the freeway and got away.

A bucket seat was stolen from a car at the Arata Pontiac Co. in South San Francisco over the weekend, police reported.

Officers said the seat was valued at $500.

'Friendly' Argument Is Bloody

A "friendly" barroom argument ended abruptly Saturday when one of the men involved was hit in the face with a broken beer bottle.

According to South San Francisco police several stitches were required to close the gash in John Burcham's face following the incident.

Burcham was unable to identify his assailant and the matter is still under investigation, police said.

The argument started between Burcham and an unknown fellow drinker at the States Tavern on Grand Avenue and stopped when the man hit Burcham in the face with the bottle.

Sea Bowl News

The Women's City Tournament held at Sea Bowl last weekend showed some very fine scores rolled by the ladies. In the singles, Bette Weissman was the winner with a 684. Doubles event, Betty Coriarty and Neva Runningwolf with a 1263. All events scratch, Neva Runningwolf with 1740. All events handicap, Clara Lacey 1889. High series, Carolyn Johnson 621. High game, Carolyn Johnson 258. High game for a 149 average bowler and under, Willa Register 227. Congratulations to all the winners.

Some leagues did not bowl this week because of the holiday. The standings for those that did are as follows: KEGLERETTES: Bowling for All American Trophy, Joanne Funk had the high game and series with a 207 and 517. EBB TIDE: Phyllis Crisp, rolling for Allstate Insurance, had two 201 games to help give her a big 578 series. For Chubby's team Lois Talbot a 524. MERMAIDS: Dot Turner was high with a 182 and 517 for her team, Madallion Glass Co. SCRATCH: For California Trophy, Goose Colorado was high with a 596 series. He also had a 241 game. Teammate Joe Ryan had high game with a 253. For Kunz Paving, Connie Bryant a 233 and 573. KINGS & QUEENS: The Gals outdid the guys this week. Betty Thomas had high series with a 561, and Wilma Joice had high game 224.

Pacifican Run Over By Own Pickup

A Pacifican man suffered two crushed ankles when he apparently was run over by his own pickup truck as it careened backwards down a Belmont hillside.

Randy R. Wyrick, 24, of 341 Channing Avenue, Pacifica, was admitted to Mills Memorial Hospital following the 11:35 a.m. mishap. He was reported in satisfactory condition today.

The victim told Policeman William Blank that he was attempting to turn around in the 3200 block of Lock Avenue. He pulled into a driveway at 3225 Lock and was backing out onto the street when the truck's throttle stuck, Wyrick said.

Blank reported that the truck shot across the street in reverse, jumped the curbing and plunged down the steep, brushy hillside.

Wyrick was ejected about 125 feet down the hill and the truck apparently ran over his ankles, breaking both of them, the policeman said. The truck finally came to a halt 250 feet down the hillside.

Big Break For Motel Operators

An opinion handed down by the Attorney General at the request of Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan provided good news for the harassed hotel owner who has been forced to collect room occupancy taxes.

In response to Ryan's request, Deputy Attorney General Howard Anawalt ruled City Councils of general law cities may allow hotel and motel owners to keep a portion of the transient room tax as a reimbursement for collection expenses.

The opinion simply means that hotel and motel owners can take a cut of the tax money to defray the cost of collecting it. It is possible that a similar ruling may be given in the case of Charter Cities such as San Francisco and Sacramento.

Assemblyman Ryan said the new ruling has vast implications for cities with a stake in the tourist and convention industries. "This law is a particular aid to cities such as those in North County that are located near the airport," Ryan said.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS IDEAS FOR AN IMPORTANT PART OF YOUR HOME

Here are some tips for you on decorating one part of your home that is often neglected — the entrance area. This is an important area because it is here that a visitor gets the first impression of your home.

One of the most important jobs for the entrance area is to say "welcome." Therefore, it should be inviting and cheerful.

If you have an attractive entrance area it increases the atmosphere of hospitality in your home. Bright, cheery, warm colors are usually best. There are practical considerations for this area, too.

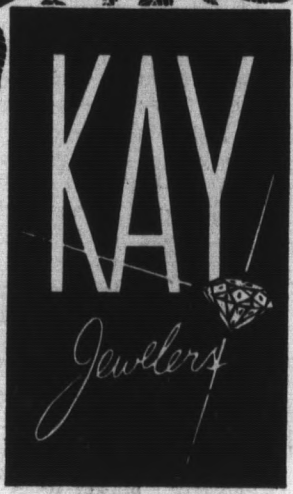

There usually should be some place to put mail, keys, gloves, etc. If the area is not big enough for a table, you can consider wall shelves that require no floor space. It's usually a good idea to have a mirror in this area.

For one thing, a mirror will add depth and make your entrance way seem larger. For another, a mirror is practical for folks who want to take a last check at themselves before going out.

This area should be well-lighted, and if you do use furniture, remember to place it so it will not interfere with free and easy movement. And here's one last tip for this area. Try some wall planters or floral arrangements. This will add one more bright, lively touch for you and your friends on entering your house.

We'll Miss That Word!

It was a fine old word. "Act or example of making known by visible means or of giving tangible evidence of something," Webster said.

It was respectable, too. Farm wives took it for their organization's name "Home D— Clubs." Innocent science students set up d— of their experiments. The word had a secure place in society.

Then, rioting in the streets started. Apologists tagged them d—. That did it. The word is now in disgrace. So much so that bureaucrats have suddenly changed the name of a new federal program. Congress set it up as the D— Cites Plan. Instead of taking it as meant, a program to d— city renewal programs, people thought it meant the government would institute d— in the cities.

So now Washington, always for purity in word and deed, has changed the name to "Model Cities Program."

Many are going to miss that useful, dirty old word.

Barbara Bladen

There are some shocking surprises in "Generation" which is playing at the Curran Theatre and most of them pass as humor.

The play was termed a "substantial hit" on Broadway with Henry Fonda in the leading role. Don Porter is filling his shoes nicely in the local engagement but it's the play that bothers me.

At times it sounds like one of those typical family conflicts one hears on television, until the daughter married only two days, waddles into the room nine months pregnant and informs her thoroughly upset parent that her poet-photographer-folk singer husband intends to deliver the baby himself.

That's something a little too strong for television. But the dialogue keeps sounding like something you've heard and vaguely looked at night after night from the living room couch.

WHEN THE ACTION becomes static, the author has thrown in a tasteless remark about pre-marital sex, or contraceptives, or a swear word or two and that's supposed to elevate it into the realm of sophistication. Bunk!

The premise of the play is good but the extremes to which authors who write for Broadway mass media go, means scraping the bottom of the barrel for laughs. And broad references to sex always get a laugh. Some plays are based solely on that.

Don Porter makes a valiant effort to keep the play sparkling. He receives able assistance from veteran performer Jerome Cowan, as the obstetrician who in the final scene performs the delivery. Together they try to coerce, trick and force the young marrieds into consenting to a doctor or a hospital.

They're an energetic twosome representing the "older" generation. Naturally, they're made to sound stuffy, square and behind the times all under the pretense of being liberal. But while Porter is making noises like a liberal, he's worrying about what his wife's friends will say about his daughter marrying a bohemian, or as he describes him "a puritan, a beat-nick honor scout."

"I CAME HERE" prepared to accept him into my family and now I find that they won't accept me into their family," Porter complains.

The comedy will undoubtedly find favor with the younger generation because it pleads their cause (marriage for love, not just because a baby is due, home delivery because doctors are a part of the cursed establishment, the simple life with homemade furniture and no handouts from home because they don't want to be compromised by those who have sold out their ideals). It will have a familiar ring to parents of teen-agers and those in their early twenties.

The overly idealistic young newlywed husband is shouted by John Luce. He thinks fighting for one's beliefs includes acting like a pompous spoiled brat. Charlotte Glenn plays his loving and patient young bride with dignity but she's given little to do except kiss him a lot and make a tossed green salad and reassure her father that their way is the right way.

There's opportunity for plenty of guffaws, but I wouldn't take a youngster to see it.

Samuel Chandler

"The Shame of the Nation" by Philip M. Stern is a book that deserves your attention. It is a photographic essay on modern American poverty.

Here in print, with pictures by the photographer, George de Vincent, are descriptions of dependent children in one southern state after another who subsist on less than 32 cents a day for food, clothing and shelter; of families in Appalachia that must live on $20 a month; of people in New York and Washington, D. C., and other big cities whose sole income is 17½ cents per person per meal from a welfare food allowance; of families living in shacks in our own California or in one of her neighboring states.

TO prepare this book, Stern and de Vincent traveled some 27,000 miles from Florida to North Dakota, from Harlem to San Francisco, from South Carolina to Arizona. They found the poor tucked away, off the main thoroughfares, largely hidden from the eyes of the rest of America.

They learned that many people are poor because they are the sons of their fathers. They are born in ghettos to mothers who can't even name the fathers. They are, the authors write, "the living embodiment of an iron law of heredity: that Mendel never taught: that poverty and ignorance of the parent can be visited on the child and the child's child just as inexorably as brown eyes or blue, dark hair or blond, white skin or black."

Some, in tucked away places, fight insolvency in the face of their more affluent neighbors until forces close in on them, taking all but their right to apply for welfare aid: "We ain't nothin' but a grasshopper in the sight of God."

"SOMEHOW, the poor always seem to end up last — last not only in material wealth, but last to receive the rights and guarantees enjoyed by others, last to have their needs and problems attended to."

They are victims of the whims of uninformed voters, who believe that the laws of 30 years ago provide "aid to the aged, the jobless, the low-paid, the helpless; social security unemployment insurance, minimum wage and welfare." But many may not realize (or acknowledge) that these measures do not form an all-covering blanket.

"On the contrary," write the authors of "The Shame of a Nation," "those who most urgently need these laws — the lowest paid, the most often jobless are still denied the warmth of legal protection." Migrant farm workers, sharecroppers, the unschooled, children of immigrants are some listed as not covered by the existing social laws and the rights to free education and good health.

IN A CHAPTER entitled, "But We Can't Afford to Help the Poor," Stern points out that this nation can vote $20 billion to put a man on the moon, one billion for new military camps. 2.3 billion for dredging rivers and harbors, yet the nation can't afford $180,000 for an emergency room in a Washington, D. C. hospital, or a $110 playground, or the price of a new school, or more than $3,800 per year for teachers in areas of burned up land, or where thousands of people are jobless because of automation.

Although one may disagree with some of the author's conclusions, he cannot read "The Shame of a Nation" without being struck by the author's continuing to ignore the fact that poverty exists in this wealthiest of nations.

Overcrossing Bid: A Cool Reception

Frank LaPierre

THE FLAT OF OUR SWORD to those city officials who continue to hold "secret" meetings under the guise of "personnel sessions" in flagrant violation of the Brown Act. Whether the Act is silly or not (as some officials have so informed us) is not the argument—it's on the books and our elected officials should obey it. Exactly what sessions can be conducted behind closed doors is clearly spelled out in the ruling. The public has a right to know what their elected officials are doing. Nuf said.

OUT ON THAT LIMB—Sacramento is cool to a bid from South San Francisco officials regarding installation of a pedestrian overcross on Junipero Serra Boulevard, where several children have been killed in recent years. Costs too much, they claim, and kids will run under these crossings anyway. People can expect these officials to stall until the new freeway is open and then they will just brush the matter aside. One Sacramento official remarked last week: If we put in these overpasses at every potentially dangerous crosswalk the boulevard would look like a tunnel.

ART VERSUS MOTHERS — How about those art books (or books of art) at Abraham Lincoln Elementary School in Daly City. Tots are waiting in line to get their hands on. Most popular is art reproductions by Paul Gauguin (1848-1903) and published by Harry N. Abrams of New York. Some mothers expressed "concern" over the age group this book is made available to.

SHOOTING AT RANDOM — Daly City Mayor Albert Polonsky is still nursing a swollen cheek, black eye and cut lip, donated outside a San Francisco courtroom when he tried to serve the husband of a woman being represented in a divorce case. The husband slugged Polonsky three times before he sagged to the canvas. Howcum a private process server wasn't used, the mayor was asked? Reply: I've thought about that a lot since last Wednesday... And how about D.C. officer Ralph Warren missing all that excitement the other a.m. at the Town Motel? Seems the good officer was out checking doors at the Westlake Shopping Center and came in for a lot of good-natured ribbing from fellow officers upon his return.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE that together on the San Bruno City Council is fast coming undone? — o of the councilmen are battling for the postmaster's job in that city and both are determined to get it. Councilman Rizzo already has the job, vacated about a year ago, and councilman Ingram thinks he should have it... Images of Big Brother cloud the air whenever councilmen start talking about the Association of Bay Area Governments around the north county. South San Francisco Mayor Frank Bertucelli can't stand the mention of ABAG and D.C. mayor Albert Polonsky is just as disgusted with the whole concept of regional rule. Most think it's a move by San Francisco to force their opinions on the county. There's gold in them there cities men.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES: That stop sign hurriedly installed at Hillside Avenue and Molite Street netted several unwary drivers the other a.m. Along with a flashing signal light at Market and Hillside, it's supposed to slow traffic in the area. The signals are only temporary and will be replaced by permanent signals—someday.

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO city planner Dan Pass' recent

memo to other city officials regarding Home Occupations compares that city to Beverly Hills. Come on Dan, SSP and Beverly Hills? Really now... And speaking of Home Occupations, some D.C. councilmen favor tossing the occupations out altogether and "looking the other way" if someone wants to say do some ironing in their home. We're not legal experts, but if someone carries on in violation of an ordinance, wouldn't that be breaking the law? Surely, these councilmen don't want the people to do that (???). We wonder still why D.C. refuses to arrive at an equitable and fair Home Occupation ruling. Many big businesses started in the home... and most cities realize this.

FACTS TO FORGET: It's a ten-year-old boy police are looking for regarding those supermarket bomb threats plaguing the north county. Market owners hope they hurry up and nab the little pest... 'Block Parent' Program Expansion Is Launched By Pacifica Residents

By DON GRIERSON

A measure of calm has returned to the Linda Mar neighborhood in Pacifica, after several days of near panic over a series of child molesting incidents last month. A block parent program, already in effect in other Pacifica areas, has been delayed, but is still under study.

Mrs. Dorothy Lenahan, president of the Sanchez Elementary School Parent-Teachers' Association, said Police Chief Neil Tremaine "allayed the fears of parents to some extent" at a recent meeting called to investigate the feasibility of instituting a "block parent" program in the area.

At a meeting attended by more than 200 concerned parents of elementary school children, Tremaine said last week there "has been no rash of child molestations in Pacifica," and that the incidents which did occur "were serious, but not serious enough to warrant a general alarm."

Parents became concerned about two months ago when three instances of child molesting, all apparently committed by the same offender, a man in a red car, occurred on the same day.

The man attempted to lure elementary school children into his car at three different locations in the Fairmont, Sharp Park and Linda Mar districts.

"No further incidents of this nature have occurred, and we have assumed the man was passing through the city and is not likely to return," Tremaine said.

There were eight cases involving sex offenses against children in Pacifica during September and October, but police records show no complaints concerning molestations within the past month.

Tremaine pointed out that "about 90 per cent of all sex offenses against children involve only exhibitionism, and no physical harm is done to the victim. We realize, of course, that the psychological effect of such an experience can be a serious enough matter in itself."

The P-TA group has appointed a 12-member committee to investigate the block parent proposal, and the committee will report to the association at the January meeting.

Block parent programs are already in effect in several areas of the city, including the Pedro Valley, Pacific Manor and Vallemar districts.

Such programs consist of having at least one residence in each block along access routes to schools designated as a "block parent station," with a "13-P" sign displayed in the window for identification.

Mrs. Lenahan said such programs serve other purposes in addition to affording protection against molesters.

"The block parent homes also function as first aid stations, bureaus for lost persons and arbitration points for fights and squabbles."

Chief Tremaine told the parents such an operation would require "a tremendous amount of co-operation," and noted that most such programs "begin with a lot of enthusiasm then dwindle away because of lack of interest."

He promised the police department's assistance in setting up the program if there is enough interest to warrant it.

"At the same time, I think you should consider the importance of instructing children on what to do in the event they are approached by an offender," he said.

Letters to the Editor

Editor, The Post:

So now, besides being a second-rate county ordered by the court to receive San Francisco's garbage dumps, much of the beauty and appeal of the world-famous "Peninsula," jewel of suburban living, is to be destroyed by removing our mountain tops and hills to fill in our bay!

What some low people

Won't it be nice to have a few thousand more souls living and working out where the bay is now, directly under the incoming flight pattern of the San Francisco International Airport!

Our freeways and highways are overcrowded now. Junipero Serra Freeway has cut the hills so that San Mateo County is looking more and more like a nightmarish Los Angeles freeway to North Hollywood.

Well, it has been enjoyable living in San Mateo County. We will be able to tell our children and grandchildren of the beautiful hills and bay that used to be!

I'm grateful for the efforts the Post has made to preserve our country's natural gifts.

MRS. D. M. DETTMER, Brisbane.

Better Business

Wholesale Offers Flooding Country

Lorene Beasley

Have you received your "special wholesale offer" because you were recommended by a friend?

If not, it may still be in the backlog of mail to be delivered. Attractive catalogs from direct mail houses are today flooding the country.

True, there are many reliable mail order firms who do use this method of selling merchandise and do give genuine discounts, but too many appear only seasonally for two or three months and stay in business just long enough to capitalize on the holiday gift-buying customer.

Mail fraud, estimated to cost the American consumer a hundred million dollars annually, is reaching for another record this year in spite of the close co-operation of Better Business Bureaus and Postal Inspectors working to uncover fraudulent schemes. There were 13,170 arrests made in 1965, resulting in 11,371 mail fraud convictions, another new record.

Firms claiming to be wholesale usually do not sell merchandise direct to the consumer, but sell information which is supposed to direct a "member" to wholesale firms which MAY sell at the prices featured.

Prospective purchasers of "wholesale priced" merchandise should first compare the so-called great discount price with prices of similar local merchandise available before buying. Purchasers of such catalogs should realize that, generally speaking, the so-called list prices have no relationship to prevailing selling prices and they should not be used to promote illusions of bargains.

Whether the company offers a money-back guarantee if the merchandise is not satisfactory should also be determined. Again, remember a guarantee is only as good as the firm behind it.

Every year the Better Business Bureaus receive many after-Christmas complaints from people who have been disappointed by the non-delivery or by the receipt of inferior merchandise. Quality cannot be determined from an illustration or from attractive printed matter. Experience indicates that it is better to purchase merchandise which can be seen or returned for exchange if not satisfactory. This brings to mind a cleverly illustrated Red Carpet Welcome Carpet ordered for a housewarming.

When it arrived, it was nothing but a thin, red piece of felt, approximately one foot by two, printed as illustrated but definitely not meant to be walked on.

Remember, diamonds can be more glass. The hundred jewel watch may have only seventeen jewels in the basic Swiss movement. Be careful of "blind" items such as simulated pearls. There is a wide variation in the quality of these items as in any other customs jewelry. Shop with an established merchant.

When something is offered at better than a 60 per cent discount through the mail, it may be "too good to be true."

OPTIMIST CLUB PRESIDENT ROBERT L. ARING (right) congratulates Westmoor High School senior Richard Thill on being selected as "outstanding student" during Youth Appreciation Week. The Daly City youth was presented with a plaque commemorating the event last week.

The "Contemporary Jazz Quintette" will present their own "Liturgy in Jazz" as a part of the December 10 Wesley Methodist Church tea, which will start at 1 p.m. at the Daly City Church. Shown are Tom Rutley, string base and piano player; Rich Pena, flute; Charles Hamilton, trombone. Pianist "Corney" Williams and drummer Dave Prentice are not pictured.

Christmas Theme At Gathering

The November meeting of the San Bruno Garden Club was centered around a Christmas theme.

Mrs. Donald George, State Garden Clubs Awards Chairman and a Master Judge as well as a talented flower arranger, herself presented her version of "Tis the Season."

She used such mundane materials as folded newspaper and construction paper to create a modern gold Christmas tree hung on a red background. A Santa Mobile to spin in the breeze as well as Rudolph made of cardboard, coat hangers, tissue paper and aluminum foil.

Among her more modern arrangements were door wreaths, abstract stars and "eyes of the gods" made of yarn wrapped material in hues of blue and green.

Cardboard circles with magnolia leaves simply stapled to them came out in door wreaths, topiary trees and table arrangements. With the use of a large stalk of a banana tree and gilded agapanthus heads, sprinkled with small ornaments, Mrs. George created a four-foot Christmas tree that would be sure to attract attention in any setting.

Mrs. George used no flowers but small amounts of greenery and whimsical ornaments made her holiday arrangements Christmas in theme and practical in use.

Mrs. Thomas Pokorny was

The engagement of Miss Barbara Lee Yerkes to Edward Ross Libonati has been announced in Pacifica, with a date of January 14, set for the wedding. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Libonati of Fairmont. He is in the Air Force, at Mather AFB, Sacramento. (Post Photo)

Christmas Spirit Theme

"The Spirit of Christmas" will be the theme of the December meeting of St. Veronica's Women's Club tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria, in South San Francisco.

At this meeting Circle members will donate canned goods and foodstuffs for the Christmas baskets distributed by the St. Vincent dePaul Society of the parish. Mrs. George Fenisey, of Rollingwood, is chairman of this Auxiliary.

The Circles are the 15 neighborhood groups of the parish who meet once a month socially and plan a minor fund-raising project. The Circle chairman will present to Father Paul P. Coleman, pastor, the proceeds of these events at the meeting. Some of the projects included luncheons, sales of religious goods, donuts, or white elephants, and fashion parties. The Circles also collected toys for children or needy families. Circle co-ordinator, Mrs. George Hadfield, of South San Francisco, will introduce the chairmen.

A highlight of the meeting will be the South San Francisco High School Choral Group, under the direction of Mr. Allen C. Fuller, who will present variations of Christmas music from Renaissance days to the present.

Members of St. Theresa and St. Martha Circles will hostess. New members of last month include the Mmes. Vincent Lombardi, Dante Benvenuti, John Vennemeyer, and Alfred Braunberger.

Area Students At Junior College Meet

A number of North Peninsula students, 600 delegates from 80 junior colleges throughout California, will stream into the San Francisco Hilton Hotel Wednesday for the 42nd annual California Junior College Student Government Association Conference (CJCSGA) to be hosted by the four Peninsula junior colleges.

Mayor Shelley has proclaimed the week of November 27 through December 3 "Student Government Week" in recognition of the conference.

This year the CJCSGA has decided to add the timely topic of the draft to one of their discussion groups. Information from the Campus Currents Workshop—which will deal with the draft—will be sent to the President's Advisory Committee on the draft.

In the past the conference has dealt with student government in practice and theory and has proven to be a breeding ground for a college youth's legislative and leadership experience.

It has been a center point where students have gathered to air opinions and ideas about student problems in the hope that their resolutions will eventually be voiced to the state legislature.

State president to reign over the four-day affair will be San Francisco's James Soletti who attends San Francisco City College. As well as being a co-host to the conference, the College of San Mateo will provide one state executive vice president in David Ackerman of San Mateo and the only girl workshop chairman—Alice Musback of South San Francisco.

Chance Porter of Foothill College will also be an executive vice president; Chance lives in Los Altos.

New Year's Eve Dinner-Dance

The Northern Peninsula Chapter of the City of Hope will hold a gala New Year's Eve dinner-dance at the San Francisco Hilton Inn.

Dinner will include filet mignon and champagne, and dancing to Al Borelli's orchestra will continue into the wee hours.

There will be festive decorations, door prizes and favors and the donation will be $25.00 per couple.

Advance reservations may be secured now by contacting Mrs. Marvin Silver or Mrs. Donald Feldman.

IF YOU HEARD what sounded like a heavenly chorus giving voice to Christmas Carols, and if the sound seemed to be emanating from the Thomas Bocci Jr. home in Garden Village, the chances are you were just dreaming, however, there is an off chance that what you heard were the massed voices of a table top aggregation of enchanting choristers created by members of the Holy Angels Boutique committee.

The delightful little ladies of song along with a staggering assortment of Christmas wreaths, candle holders, hurricane lamp santas, artificial trees and a multiplicity of holiday centerpieces, gift ideas and home decorations will be a part of the first Holy Angels Women's Guild Christmas Boutique to be held Sunday in the Parish Hall following each mass.

MRS. LORRAINE PICCHI is the chairman of the event, new this year, designed to raise money for the two scholarships the guild awards annually to members of the graduating class of the parish school. Mrs. Lucy Dal Porte and Mrs. Mel Bocci are the co-chairmen and enthusiastic helpers who have assisted with the planning, organization and actual creation of the colorful array which features something for every age and pocket book. The kiddies will be delighted with the number of presents for mothers and brothers and sisters that they can purchase with only 25 cents while the more sophisticated shoppers are going to be quite taken with the graceful gold Madonnas, pyramids of gilded flowers and the assortment of glitter encased stemware candelabras.

MRS. MICHAEL SUGRUE was the hostess when the members of the Tau Gamma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority held a Banco party to raise money for the unit's philanthropic project, sending a blind child to camp.

The success of the fund raiser will be one of the topics of conversation tomorrow evening when the members gather again, this time for the regular monthly convocation.

Mrs. Joan Storman will hold the meeting in her home and she will be assisted by Dorothy Decker, the co-hostess. The program will feature a cultural report by Mrs. Dolly Greer and Mrs. Kathryn Raisis.

SPECIAL REMINDER, don't forget the Art guild of Pacifica Formal Show this Saturday and Sunday in the Pedro Point Fire House. The guild numbers many award winning artists among its members and the show is a good spot to shop for that something new for your home or a special Christmas gift.

MEMBERS OF THE Daly City Community Chorus will welcome visitors and-or prospective members when they gather for the regular weekly rehearsal and monthly social hour, tomorrow evening at 8 p.m. in the Westmoor Club House.

No previous arrangements are required so if you would like to see the chorus prepare for its Christmas engagements or if you are looking for a musical group with the idea of joining in mind, drop by Thursday.

LORRIE SANDKULLA, honored queen of Pacifica's Bethel 348, International Order of Job's Daughters, provided a charming escort for the Bethel's Deputy Grand Guardian when she was installed as the Grand Marshall of the Grand Council of California, Job's Daughters, during recent ceremonies in Southern California.

Mrs. Warren was elected to her new state post during the Grand Guardian Council meeting on November 11 in the Disneyland Hotel. Miss Sandkulla, and her Junior Princess, Leslie Windhorst, flew to southland for the installation ceremonies which were held November 12 in the Garden Grove High School in Garden Grove, California.

In addition to her new post and the Deputy Grand Guardian's post with Bethel 348, Mrs. Warren is also the Deputy Grand Guardian of Bethel 255 in South San Francisco and Bethel 68 in San Bruno. She was instrumental in the organizing of Bethel 348 two years ago, she is the Past Guardian of Bethel 255 and is Past Honored Queen of Bethel 68 as well as the Past Matron of Ruth Chapter 305, Order of the Eastern Star, South San Francisco.

Localities on hand to see Mrs. Warren installed included Mrs. Anne Stone, Guardian Secretary, Bethel 348, and Mrs. Sally Ann Borrás, director of music for the Bethel and Edward Warren the honoree's husband and the Associate Guardian of the Pacifica Bethel.

MR AND MRS. ELMER OHLENDORF were the honored guests at an anniversary party hosted by their daughter and her husband Mr. and Mrs. Michael Donham in the Pacific Heights home recently.

The Ohlendorfs, who were observing their thirtieth anniversary, were feted by 30 friends and relatives, most of whom had been on hand when the pair were married by the Rev. Mr. Herbert P. Schroeder of Bethel Lutheran Church. Special guest at the gathering was the Ohlendorfs' son, Leonard, who is in the U.S. Navy stationed on the U.S.S. Marias, based in Norfolk, Virginia.

The Donhams decorated their home in traditional fashion for the occasion and added a special sentimental touch by having the florist recreate a floral arrangement identical to the floral piece which was placed on the altar on the Ohlendorfs' wedding day.

An unusual aspect of the day was the noting of the

Receive Good
Grooming Tips

At the last regular meeting of Terra Nova's Future Business Leaders of America Club officers and members heard Miss Toni Dahl from the Patricia Stevens Finishing School.

Miss Dahl gave grooming tips to remember when going on job interviews. She also talked about the courses offered at the Patricia Stevens School.

Following her presentation, Miss Dahl awarded a $285 scholarship for a complete course at the Patricia Stevens School to Marla Kopic, one of the publicity book managers.

Plans are now underway for the F.B.L.A.'s annual candy cane sale. The proceeds of this candy sale will be used to help send members to the State and National Conventions next spring.

fact that Bethel Lutheran Church continues to play an important and continuing role in the lives of all the Ohlendorfs, for their grandchildren, now members of Bethel, are the fourth generation of that family to worship there.

MRS. JACK ROSE is up to her eyebrows in cookie and candy recipes and Mrs. J. Jay Flynn has worked her fingers to the bone on craft projects as the pair, chairman of baked goods and the gift department chairman, respectively, for the Our Lady of Mercy Cookie-Candy and Gift Sale to be held on December 11.

Mrs. Joan Moulton, publicity chairman, has promised a mouthwatering collection of goodies and a table of gift and notions of unique and lovely design. Committeewomen are decorating bottles, Christmas socks and calendars and a wide variety of aprons and table decorations for the sale which will be held in the parish hall following each Mass.

THE YWCA IS OFF and running with a lively winter program that is offering all the traditional wide range of activities and classes that localities have come to expect from this association.

Bridge, golf, swimming, bowling, billiards, painting, a nursery school, arts and crafts for children, and for the ladies' ballet, Hawaiian and basic dance.

The activities are already under way but if you are just now beginning to realize you should have signed up, call Justine Williams, the director, or the office manager Dorothy Hess for information about late enrollments. The local YWCA office may be reached by phoning 756-7370.

THE TROUBADORS of St. Francis Heights are scheduled to perform, as students of the St. Francis Heights Dance and Music Guild in Daly City, will dance for wounded Viet Nam veterans December 6 at Letterman Hospital. Other activities will include Christmas parties for various clubs and lodges. Left to right, members of the group include Donna Turnley, Julie Mora, Maureen Zins, Caryn Ungaretti, Lisa Bianchini, Cheryl Heisler and Lulu Bellevue, all of Daly City.

Broadmoor Scout Troop Has New Scoutmaster

Boy Scout Troop 129 of Broadmoor Village, Daly City, recently had a kick-off activity, in the way of a Halloween party for the families of the boys in the troop. This was the way of starting off the troop's activities under Scoutmaster Bill Proctor.

Parents and children alike dressed up for the occasion. Games included apple-bobbing and a cake walk. Cider and doughnuts were served.

A court of honor also was held with Tenderfoot awards given to Bradley Cloonan and Jimmy Morton; merit badges to Richard Fleischer, Richard Perry, Mike Brandt and Dan Proctor.

Recent activities of the troop included a 10-mile hike to the zoo and attendance at the Stanford football game.

A weekend of camping is planned for December 3 and 4 at Samuel P. Taylor State Park.

Riordan High Mother-Son Breakfast Fete

The mothers and sons of Riordan High School will meet December 4 to celebrate the annual Mother and Sons Communion-Breakfast.

Mass will be offered at 8:30 a.m. in the school auditorium, and will be sung in the new folk music by the senior class, under the direction of Brother Paul Quinn. Breakfast will follow in Chaminade Hall.

The breakfast speaker will be Paul M. Hupf, the president of the Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Men, and the city attorney of Daly City.

Hupf will discuss the organization and functions of the Council, and the updated approach of the council at the national level.

THE FORMER ANN MARY JACOBSON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jacobson of Daly City, and Steve Doukas of San Francisco were wed September 8 at the Greek Orthodox Church of the Annunciation in San Francisco. The bride is a graduate of Westmoor High School. Doukas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Doukas of San Francisco, is a sergeant with the United States Army Special Forces.

El Camino High Students View Rembrandt Exhibit

The El Camino High School Art Club after a month of formulating plans visited the California Palace of the Legion of Honor in time to view the exhibit of the "Age of Rembrandt."

Students from the art classes of Mrs. Elizabeth Schmidt and Mrs. Barbara Scoble and members of Miss Tova Duncan's French class joined the Art Club for the trip. An entire morning was devoted to the excursion, only one of the many activities which the Art Club sponsors. The exhibit was discussed at the club's meeting at the end of the day.

The group also sponsors the annual El Camino High School Art Fair held each spring. A panel of club members act as judges to select the best poster promoting school spirit during the school's annual "Spirit Week." In addition, the club works in collaboration with the school literary magazine, "Changing Tides," by providing illustrations.

Fruit Cake
Time Near

Nell Norton

ABOUT a month ago I sounded the warning gong to appraise you of the fact that Christmas was coming and fruit cake time was fast upon us.

And I'll bet you just said "uh-huh" and went back to your second cup of coffee and the recipe for lamb stew. Now, dear friends and gentle readers, the time is definitely here and you are going to have to get going on those cakes if you want them nicely aged for Christmas eating.

Fruit cakes are the most rewarding of all cakes, in my estimation. Not only are they seasonal, delicious and beautiful, they also have the added attraction of "going far," because they are so rich you serve thin slices. And you know the old saying, "Nice things come in thin slices" — or something like that.

BEFORE we start the recipes we had better talk a little about the preparation of the pans. Since fruit cakes take such a long time to bake, you give them extra protection by lining the pans with heavy brown paper. Both the pans and the paper should be greased. Do all this before you start mixing your cake, for it's rather a sticky job and you don't want to have to stop in the middle of cake mixing to do it.

When baking your cakes, place a pan of water in the bottom of the oven. This will keep the top from getting too dry and also makes a nice shine on your cakes.

While there is a time given for baking your cakes, be sure to test with a tester. Or if you are old-fashioned like me, use a clean broom straw.

This first recipe makes a dark and rich fruit cake, spicy and full of fruits with the added attraction of port wine and canned pineapple.

PORT WINE-PINEAPPLE FRUIT CAKE

- 2 cups (16-ounce package) mixed candied
- 2 cups seedless raisins
- 1 cup chopped dates
- 1 cup chopped walnuts
- 1 (No. 2) can crushed pineapple (drained)
- 1 cup port wine
- Three-fourths cup shortening
- 1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed in the cup
- ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon cloves
- ¼ teaspoon cloves
- 4 eggs, well beaten
- 2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1½ teaspoons soda
- 1 teaspoon salt

In large bowl, mix together the candied fruits, raisins, dates, nuts and drained pineapple. Pour wine over fruits and set aside while preparing remaining ingredients, stirring occasionally.

Cream shortening, brown sugar and spices until light and fluffy. Blend in beaten eggs. Sift dry ingredients together and add to spice mixture. Add the fruits and wine and stir until well distributed.

Pour into prepared cake pans. Using either one large tube pan or two bread-loaf pans, 9x5x3. If you use the loaf pans divide the batter equally between the two.

Bake in a slow oven, 300-degrees, two to 2½ hours or until toothpick inserted in center of cakes comes out clean.

Remove from pans and cool thoroughly. Remove papers and wrap in cloth moistened with brandy, then in heavy foil. Store in covered container or in cool place for at least one week before cutting.

I ALWAYS make at least two cakes, one light and one dark. Each year I try a new recipe. But sometimes I find that one is so good that I make it over and over. This cake comes under that category.

WHITE FRUIT CAKE

- 2 cups golden seedless raisins
- 6 ounces citron, shredded
- ½ pound candied cherries
- 4 ounces candied pineapple, thinly sliced
- 2 cups blanched almonds
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1½ teaspoon baking powder
- Three-fourths cup butter or margarine
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1½ cups sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 6 egg whites

Rinse and drain raisins. Shred citron. Cut cherries into halves. Slice pineapple into thin wedges, split almonds into halves or cut into slivers. Combine fruits and almonds with ½ cup flour and mix lightly. Sift remaining 1½ cups flour with baking powder and salt. Cream butter thoroughly. Add sugar, gradually, blending well. Add sifted dry ingredients and beat well. Stir in vanilla. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites.

Pour batter over fruit and nut mixture, mix lightly but thoroughly. Turn into prepared nine-inch tube pan lined with two thicknesses of greased brown paper and one of greased wax paper. Bake in slow oven, 275-degrees, about three to 3½ hours, or until toothpick comes out clean. Makes about 4½ pounds of cake.

Remove cake from oven and allow to cool in pan on cooling rack for 10 minutes. Then lift cake with baking papers and finish cooling on rack. Do not remove the papers. When thoroughly cooled, prepare for storing. Trim papers even with top of cake. Then carefully wrap in foil or waxed paper. Store in cool dry place for several weeks.

Pacifica Teen Dance Friday

The Pacifica Teen Club will hold a dance Friday night at Oddstad Center, 8-11:30. Special lighting is being installed.

A change in the Teen Co-Pac night has been initiated in an attempt to increase attendance. Starting December 7 at Oceana gym and continuing every Wednesday evening, a band practice session will be included along with the usual sports activities. Those bands interested in practicing during the event between the hours of 7-9 may sign up at City Hall.

A J-Teen Co-Rec is scheduled for Oceana gym December 3, 1-4 p.m. Volleyball, badminton, Ping Pong and other games will be available for those attending. The event will conclude with a sock hop.

Refreshments will be served. Only J-Teen Club members may attend, and admission is 35 cents. For those wishing to join J-Teens, an additional 50 cents will be collected. Seventh and eighth grade students interested in joining may also do so at their clubs weekly meeting.

Holy Angels Guild Boutique

The Holy Angels Women's Guild in Colma, is sponsoring a Christmas Boutique, which will be held in the parish hall on Sunday after all of the Masses.

Mrs. T. Picchi, chairman, advises that Christmas decorations for the tree, table and home are being featured. Homemade cakes, cookies and candy will also be on sale.

Bring the family and enjoy a light breakfast of coffee, chocolate, milk and donuts while you are browsing.

Mrs. Santa Claus will be on hand with her bag of goodies for the children.

B'nai B'rith Women Meeting

Seven Hills Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women will hold its regular meeting tonight at 8 at the Lake Merced Boathouse, Skyline Drive, San Francisco.

A demonstration on new and exciting ways to decorate the home for Chanukah will be presented. Refreshments will be served following the program. All friends and members are cordially invited to attend. For further information please contact Mrs. Harvey Moss.

Pioneer Women Set Meeting

A meeting of the Orah Chapter of Pioneer Women (young women between 25 and 35), will be held December 13 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Meister, Daly City.

Mrs. Bertzloff will be the guest speaker and will explain the international language — Esperanto.

Westborough Wins Serra Price Fight

Owners of the Westborough subdivision in South San Francisco won out over the state last week in a court battle over the price of land to be taken for the new Junipero Serra Freeway.

A Superior Court jury, after 31 days of trial before Judge Wayne H. Millington, set the price for the 18.5-acre acquisition at $1,050,720.

The state's high appraisal of the value was $602,000, while the owners' low appraisal was closer to the verdict—$1,110,000.

The jury deliberated from 10:30 a.m. Monday until 2:30 p.m. yesterday.

The property, which is zoned for commercial use, is at the intersection of Junipero Serra and Westborough Boulevards.

Westborough was represented in the trial by attorney Jess Jackson of Burlingame. Robert Webber of San Bruno represented other defendants, Forest Homes and financier T. J. Bettles. The state was represented by Roger Anderson and Paul Lamphere, lawyers for the Department of Public Works.

First Yule Accident Is Reported

The year's first Christmas season accident was recorded in Pacifica last week.

Gaylene Ross, 27, 366 Horizon Drive, fell several feet from a storage loft in her garage, cracking a rib when she hit a wooden crate.

Police said the woman was trying to remove her Christmas tree decorations which had been stored in the loft since last year.

Dengler Honor From Loyola U.

Lt. (j.g.) Dieter Dengler, the Navy pilot from Pacifica who escaped his North Viet Nam captors, was honored last week by Loyola University at a $250-a-plate dinner.

Dengler was the first American serviceman to escape the Communists.

Dengler, 28, lost 59 pounds during his four months' imprisonment and four-week flight through the jungle. He described his experiences to his more than 1,200 listeners.

"You would never believe how one can rot in a jungle prison. Some prisoners experienced teeth problems. The only way we could help was split the infected tooth with a . . . rock to release the pressure. . . ."

A university spokesman said the benefit dinner raised $290,000 in operating funds for the Loyola medical school. Dengler, whose home is at Pacifica, was rescued after he was spotted, delirious from malnutrition, jaundice and fatigue, by an Air Force plane which spotted a crude signal Dengler laid out.

Dengler received the Sword of Loyola for "courage, dedication and service."

Featured article in last week's Saturday Evening Post deals with the adventures of Lieutenant Dengler in escaping from his Laotian captors.

A Speedup Of Freeway Asked

Early construction of San Bruno Freeway was urged yesterday by the West Bay Rapid Transit Authority, which is developing a master transit plan for San Mateo County.

"This board has for the past year reviewed traffic, population, employment and land use data developed by its consultants for the purpose of preparing the master plan," a resolution approved by the Authority's Board of Directors states.

N. County Deaths

DR. BERNHARD W. GERDES
Funeral services for Dr. Bernhard W. Gerdes, who died last Wednesday at Kaiser Hospital following a three week illness, were held at Duggan Mortuary in Daly City Tuesday.

Dr. Gerdes, 59, a long-time resident of Daly City, was a former principal at George Washington and General Pershing Elementary schools.

He received his bachelor of arts and masters degrees at the University of Nebraska and a doctor of education degree from Stanford University.

He was born in Valparaiso, Neb., and for the past 11 years made his home at 334 Lakeshore Drive with his wife, Kathryn.

Dr. Gerdes is survived by his wife, daughter, Mrs. Karen Holmka and granddaughter Kimberly Sandra Holmka of Concord; brothers William and Clarence Gerdes, sister Freida Gerdes, all of Nebraska. Another sister, Mrs. Josephine Lindbloom, lives in Kansas.

The doctor was a U.S. Naval officer in WWII and was interred at Golden Gate National Cemetery with military honors.

DAISY EMMA MARPLE
Daisy, Emma Marple, 89, of 2545 Lexington Way, San Bruno, died last Wednesday at a Burlingame convalescent home after a lengthy illness.

A native of Ukiah, she had resided in San Mateo County for 15 years, and was a former employee of the W & J Sloane Company of San Francisco.

Funeral services were Saturday from El Camino Chapel, with interment in Cypress Lawn Cemetery.

VICTOR PIERCE MAJOURAU

Services were held last Wednesday from Lasswell Chapel for Victor Pierce Majourau, 73, of 262 Irvington Street, Daly City, who died Sunday at his home. Entombment was in Olivet Memorial Park.

A resident of Daly City for 12 years, Majourau was a charter member of the National Fraternal Society for the Deaf.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Laura Majourau, Daly City; two sons, Richard and Paul, and five grandchildren.

MICHELE CORDS
Funeral services were held last Wednesday for Michele Cords, 18-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Cords, 505 Lewis Lane, Pacifica, who died Monday.

Services were from the Numan and Lincoln Chapel by the Sea, with burial in Greenlawn Cemetery.

Survivors other than the parents include paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Cords, and maternal grandparents, Mrs. Marie Willard, all of Pacifica.

First Yule Mishap At Pacifica
The year's first Christmas season accident was reported in Pacifica yesterday.

Gaylene Ross, 27, of 365 Horizon Drive, fell several feet from a storage loft in her garage, cracking a rib when she hit a wooden crate.

D.C. Student Honored By Optimists
A 17-year-old Westmoor High School senior was honored by the Daly City Optimist Club last week as "Outstanding Student" during the club's Youth Appreciation Week activities.

Richard Thill, of 96 Park Manor Drive was presented with a plaque by Optimist president Robert L. Aring.

Young Thill's high scholastic record at the Daly City high school, centered around electronics and mathematics, also Chapter of California Scholars made him eligible for the local ship Federation.

The Optimist award is an annual award series presented to those youth displaying outstanding school records.

In the sports field, Thill is an excellent wrestler. As a sophomore he made the state finals.

He is also president of the C.S.F. and his teachers have selected him for several other scholastic honors.

Mary's Help Given Lang Madonna

Macy's California has presented a lifesize wooden Madonna to Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City.

James M. Lundy, president of Macy's California presented the statue, carved by Germany's Richard Lange of rare Linden wood, to Sister Louise, the administrator of the hospital.

The five-foot statue was completed while Lang was a guest recently of Macy's, which conducted a "grand tour of Europe" show.

Herr Lang is owner of a noted wood carving firm. The Langs have been master woodcarvers for generations. The skills have been passed from father to son.

The statue will be placed in the lobby of the Daly City hospital.

Woman Hurt Changing Seats in Car

A South San Francisco woman was injured last Wednesday in an automobile accident on El Camino Real which police said was caused by a San Francisco woman attempting to change seat with a passenger in her car to avoid a license check.

Sherry L. Johnson, 213 Wildwood Drive, was treated for head lacerations at Kaiser Hospital and later released.

Police said the wreck occurred about 10:30 p.m. when Rita Ann Valleria, 500 Peru Street, San Francisco, attempted to change seats with Allen B. Pervis, a passenger in the front seat of her car.

Police were stopping drivers to check licenses, and several vehicles were parked in the southbound lane. The Valleria vehicle struck the rear of Miss Johnson's car, forcing it into the car in front. The front vehicle was driven by Joseph A. Pagano, 657 Newman Drive, South San Francisco.

Damages to the vehicles were estimated at several hundred dollars.

Miss Valleria was cited for driving without a license.

BREATHES AIR
Unlike most other fish, the tarpon can breathe air as well as water, says the Miami Seaquarium.

There was an estimated $200 damage when bedding in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Graves caught fire at 10 a.m.

Children Play, Bedroom Burns
Two small children, playing with their father's cigarette lighter, apparently caused a fire in a bedroom at 552 Skyline Boulevard, San Bruno, San Bruno firemen said.

Costello urged councilmen to "wait for a Superior Court ruling" before acting on the ordinance.

He also charged that the Pacifica ordinance is obscure. "The ordinance states that industrial subdivisions are not to be affected, but it is not at all clear about commercial subdivisions."

Costello said a survey has indicated the "park dedication" ordinance would add an average

Builders Fight Regulations For Coast Land Dedication

An ordinance introduced last week to establish regulations for the dedication of land as public parks by subdivision developers in Pacifica met with immediate opposition from the Peninsula Contractors and Builders Association.

Bob Costello, a representative of the association, told councilmen the ordinance, which would require developers to donate a specified portion of land from each subdivision for public use, is "patently unfair and will not stand up in court."

Marriages
MAIRANI-GOMEZ — Jerry J. Mairani, 19, South San Francisco, and Patricia M. Gomez, 18, South San Francisco.

NEVOLO-BORING — Vincent J. Nevo, 16, Daly City, and Helen P. Boring, 15, Daly City.

COOK-KELLY — Ernest C. Cook, 25, San Carlos, and Virginia A. Kelly, 25, Pacifica.

GRIMES-SUTHERLAND — Larry J. Grimes, 25, Pacifica, and Judy A. Sutherland, 18, Millbrae.

SWAN-STINETTE — David N. Swan, 24, Alaska, and Goldie A. Stinette, 21, San Bruno.

MUSANTE-FIRPO — John A. Musante, 26, San Francisco, and Marilyn A. Firpo, 25, Daly City.

"This ordinance would change the rules of the business drastically," Costello said. "We feel the taking of private property without compensation is unconstitutional."

"We are opposed to any legislation that requires the building industry to provide all public recreation facilities," the association spokesman said, "and we are not alone in taking this position."

"The Legislature's council has advised lawmakers that the state law upon which these ordinances are based is unconstitutional, and several courts have already ruled in favor of developers."

Costello urged councilmen to "wait for a Superior Court ruling" before acting on the ordinance.

He also charged that the Pacifica ordinance is obscure. "The ordinance states that industrial subdivisions are not to be affected, but it is not at all clear about commercial subdivisions."

Costello said a survey has indicated the "park dedication" ordinance would add an average

Change in New School Opening Date Forecast

Pacific's Crespi Elementary School, originally scheduled for completion in time for the current school term, may not be completed in time for the 1967-68 term, Laguna Salada Union School District Supt. Frederick Lucas said last week.

"Contractors on phase I construction of the project have asked for a time extension," Lucas said, "and we are going to be cutting it really close to finish the school by the first week in September."

Lucas said contractors on the Phase I construction, which consists of clearing and preparation of the site, have requested the extension because of delay in delivery of pipe for the drainage system, rain and wet grounds, and the necessity of relocating the "key" in the terrace system.

Completion of the school was rescheduled for August 15, 1967, after litigation over the building site held up construction last year.

Contractors on the phase I construction are B. Fontana and Sons, Inc., and the Dale Williams Company of South San Francisco.

"We are still optimistic about chances of getting the school ready in time for the next school year," the superintendent said. "It has been my experience that both a soft drink vending machine, contractors and unions put forth extra effort in crucial situations such as this."

Lucas said failure to complete the school would impose "considerable hardships upon parents and pupils, as well as district personnel, and would likely result in additional shift classes in the district."

Plans for construction of the new school buildings have been completed, and contracts for further construction phases will be let "in the very near future," Lucas said.

When completed, the new school will accommodate 550 elementary students.

The first delay in construction resulted from prolonged court litigation between the school district and the Roalco Corporation, owner of the four acres of the 20-acre site. The land was finally acquired last August through a superior court condemnation ruling.

WHAT IS LUCKY "BONDED" BEEF?
Lucky is extremely particular as to the quality of meat it sells. In fact, each piece of beef is personally selected by Lucky buyers. The actual grading of beef is an appraisal of quality. Government inspectors grade meat on the basis of their personal interpretation of rules established by the Department of Agriculture; therefore, grading varies by areas and inspectors.
After being passed for wholesomeness by Federal and State inspectors, but before it is graded, Lucky buyers carefully choose the beef they feel will fall into the USDA "Choice" grade. Lucky buyers stamp only the beef they believe will be the most tender and tasty; beef that is of finest quality and worthy of Lucky's reputation of quality.
Occasionally, their opinions differ from that of Government inspectors. Because we stand behind the selection of our buyers... every cut of meat carries a Lucky Bond... YOUR MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE OF COMPLETE SATISFACTION.

After-Ski Parties For Sierra's Fans

Are you making plans for winter entertaining? How about an after-ski party. You can show off your smoothest slaloms and trickiest traverses in the morning... your culinary talents later in the day. The rules are few and simple.

1. The gathering center for an after-ski party is the fireplace. Make sure yours is ready, stacked with logs that are thick and dry with twigs tucked underneath for a quick, easy start. When you return home (first!) ignite the fire — lighter fluid helps — and have a healthy blaze going when your guests pour in about a half hour later.

2. Prepare for you cocktails in advance. Place a chafing dish and a bottle of dry Spanish sherry on a low table near the fire. About 20 minutes before serving, light the alcohol lamp or candle of the chafing dish, pour the imported sherry into the pan and allow it to warm while you are doing your other chores.

3. For those who might prefer a cold drink — and there's always several in the crowd — set out a bottle of dry Spanish sherry and a bucket of ice for pour-your-own sherry on the rocks.

4. To be enjoyed with the sherry, set up a lazy Susan tray with salted crackers, nuts and olives... finger foods that require no advance cooking. Now let's move on into the kitchen.

5. Your dinner must consist of foods you can pre-cook the night before. Keep the meal simple. A good after-ski menu: hot consommé, roast beef (lamb or pork), potato casserole and a tossed salad.

6. Advance cooking instructions for the night before: Prepare the soup and refrigerate, when cooled, in a jar or plastic container. Pre-cook your roast to within a half hour of done-ness and also your potato casserole being sure to lightly boil the potatoes, leaving them firm enough for additional cooking tomorrow. For your last "advance" chore, wash the salad greens and place them on ice.

7. A half hour before serving, put the roast and casserole into a pre-heated oven, warm the soup slowly, and place the greens in a salad bowl to be tossed lightly with olive oil, vinegar and freshly ground pepper, at the dinner table. Then, plug in the coffeepot, and check the table — which you set last night — for last-minute omissions.

8. After you've greeted everyone at the door, turn your attention to the sherry in the chafing dish. As your fun-frolicking friends are rubbing their icy finger tips over the flames, bring in the orange peel (from one orange) that you've pre-soaked in brandy and sugar, ignite the peel, and drop it into the Spanish sherry. Then, amid the delighted "oohs and ahs," spoon the flaming drink into demitasse or punch cups.

9. After dinner, serve coffee in front of the fire with semi-sweet crackers and imported cream sherry. To keep the evening going until after the 10 p.m. sleep hour, most skiers leave the sherry bottle on tap with glorious bunches of golden grapes.

SIZZLING SHERRY PUNCH
1 bottle of Spanish sherry (fino type)

Peel from one orange
4 oz. brandy
2 tablespoons sugar
Pour the bottle of Spanish Sherry into a chafing dish pan and warm for 20 minutes. Marinate the orange peel in a mixture of brandy and sugar. Ignite the peel and drop it into the pan of sherry. Spoon the flaming drink into demitasse or punch cups.

A Treasure Trove of Dips For Holidays

TREASURE TROVE OF DIPS FROM SEASONED MIXES
Ever since Arthur Godfrey (so it is said) discovered the affinity of onion soup mix with dairy sour cream as divine dip for crackers, potato chips and corn chips, others have been, in the vernacular, doing likewise. Here are a few tried and true dips using seasoned mixes, each with a flavor fillip of dairy sour cream as a base. All recipes are party size.

CLAM DIP. Blend 1 envelope tomato soup mix, 2 cups (1 pint) dairy sour cream and 2 tablespoons Italian salad dressing thoroughly. Stir one 10½-ounce can minced clams, drained, and 1 tablespoon clam juice into the tomato-sour cream mixture. Refrigerate.

FUACAMOLE DIP. Combine 1 avocado, mashed (yields approximately 1 cup), 2 cups (1 pint) dairy sour cream and 3 tablespoons onion soup mix. Fold in 1 tomato, chopped, and 1 tablespoon sherry. Refrigerate until serving time.

CALIFORNIA DIP Heat 1-3 cup sherry and combine with 1 envelope onion soup mix; refrigerate for at least 1 hour. Stir well with fork and fold in 2 cups (1 pint) dairy sour cream and ¼ teaspoon paprika. Very good with Swedish meatballs.

SHRIMP DIP. Blend 1 envelope tomato soup mix and 2 cups (1 pint) dairy sour cream thoroughly. Stir in 2 tablespoons Italian salad dressing and 1 cup chopped cooked shrimp. Refrigerate.

BRANDIED EDAM
For a handsome holiday party offering, we repeat this brandied Edam cheese.

Out of 1 two-pound Edam cheese and scoop out most the cheese, leaving a ½ to ¾ inch shell. Place 2½ cups dairy sour cream in blender; add cheese. Blend at high speed until the ingredients are well mixed. Fold in ½ cup chopped parsley and ¼ cup brandy; refrigerate until serving time. Fill Edam shell with cheese, brandy and parsley mixture.

Holiday Puts Accent On Dairy Foods

There's no doubt about it... enjoyable holiday edibles put the accent on dairy foods. A few suggestions are:

Cheeses, but Yes

One of the most important dairy aids for your Christmas culinary capers, remind home economists for the Dairy Council of California, is an S.O.S. shelf in your refrigerator stocked with several varieties of cheeses ready to be whisked out at a minute's notice (preferable a few minutes' notice so they can be brought to room temperature for ease of cutting or spreading and best in flavor) for serving on assorted crackers or breads when unexpected guests drop in to wish you good cheer.

Plenty of Butter

Your check list particularly for that all important Thanksgiving and Christmas dinner should include plenty of butter for, putting first things first, those wonderful home-baked cookies, pies and cakes then for basting the bird and spreading on hot breads, creamy mashed potatoes and the like.

Yuletide Dessert Specialties

If you are a traditionalist and flaming plum pudding or steaming mince pie are "musts" for your special Yuletide dessert, remember they're better with toppings of buttery hard sauce for the pudding; wedges of Cheddar or blue cheese as an accompaniment for the pie. If pumpkin pie is the specialty of the house how about a spicy dairy sour cream topping using 3 tablespoons brown sugar and 1 teaspoon nutmeg for each 1 cup (½ pint) dairy sour cream. This is tops for apple pie, too.

Cream and More Cream

There's fresh tangy dairy sour cream for myriad dishes and garnishments, whipping cream for luscious desserts, half and half for coffee and for adding richness to creamed soups and sauces. Then there's regular coffee cream and all-purpose cream for serving over fresh fruits, cereals, hot fruit cobblers, puddings and on and on. The all-purpose cream, of course whips, too, for using for whipped toppings and as an ingredient.

Hors d'Oeuvres For Holidays

When squares, rounds, oblongs or triangles of bread are sauteed gently in butter, with its yet-to-be duplicated flavor, until crispy and lightly browned they make perfect underpinnings for holiday hors d'oeuvres. Here's a good one. Place an anchovy fillet cut to size on a buttery bread crisp. Combine grated Parmesan cheese with a little chopped parsley and moisten with dry sherry to make a paste. Spread paste rather thickly over the anchovies and broil until thoroughly heated through.

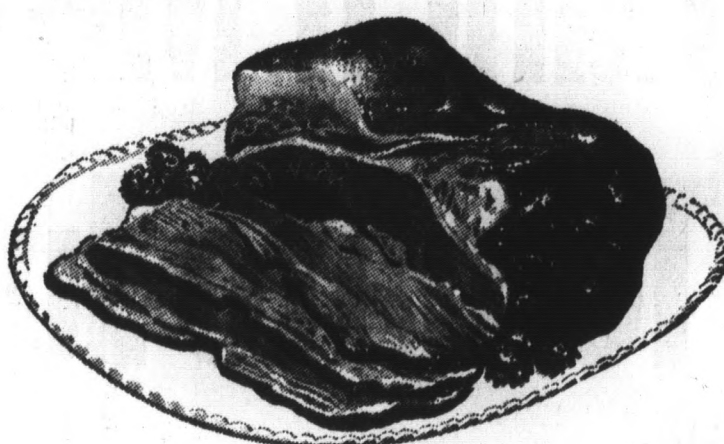

Unique Topping

For an original topping to your Christmas package, tie tiny pine cones and sprigs of plastic pins to a big red bow. Pine adds an original touch to place cards for your holiday party.

Gingerbread Boys Oldest Sweet Cake

Gingerbread is possibly the oldest sweet cake savored by man, dating back to the ancient Egyptian era over 2,000 years ago. Because of its distinctive taste and pretty golden color, almost every country in the world has its own formula for gingerbread.

From the 13th century on, gingerbread took on the fanciful shapes now so much a part of its partyish character and charm. These Gingerbread Boys are one of the most appealing to adults and children alike. Nibble them with fresh, delicious coffee, and save some extras for decorating the festive centerpiece or the Christmas tree. A tablespoon of instant coffee powder in this traditional recipe adds to the color and flavor of the cookies.

Just like gingerbread, coffee is an old and universal favorite — together they are an ideal refreshment for a holiday coffee break. But be sure your coffee befits the occasion. For best results, use one Approved Coffee Measure of coffee to each six ounces of water, per serving. Then serve it freshly-brewed and fragrant.

GINGERBREAD BOYS

- 1-3 cup shortening
- 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- ½ cups molasses
- ½ cup cold water
- 7 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon instant coffee powder
- 1 teaspoon allspice
- 1 teaspoon ginger
- ½ teaspoon ground cloves
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 2 teaspoons baking soda
- 3 tablespoons cold water

Cream shortening and sugar. Blend in molasses and ½ cup cold water. Mix well. Mix and sift flour, salt, instant coffee and spices. Stir in. Dissolve baking soda in 3 tablespoons cold water. Stir in. Wrap dough in heavy waxed paper or foil. Chill. Roll out about ¼-inch thick. Cut with gingerbread boy cutter. Bake on lightly greased baking sheets at 350 degrees for 15 to 18 minutes. Cool slightly. Remove to wire cake racks. When cool, decorate as desired. Makes about 2½ dozen, depending on the size of the cutter.

Eggnog Pumpkin Pie for Christmas

Christmas is the holiday of the year. It's a wonderful time when the aroma of freshly baked cookies or fruit cake wafts out of the kitchen and closets conceal mysterious packages.

For the friends who drop in to chat and to rest shopping-weary feet, serve a cup of coffee and a slice of Egg Nog Pumpkin Pie. Combine the spicy goodness of traditional pumpkin pie with extra smoothness and hearty Egg Nog flavor.

When there's no time to prepare a special dessert, serve Egg Nog right from the carton, topped with a dish of cinnamon or nutmeg. It's at your door or at your store—from the "contented cow" company.

EGG NOG PUMPKIN PIE
(Makes one 9-inch pie)

- 2 cups (1-pound can) pumpkin
- 2 tablespoons maple syrup
- 2 slightly beaten eggs
- 1 cup Carnation Egg Nog
- 2 tablespoons butter
- ½ cup dark brown sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
- ¼ teaspoon ground cloves
- 9-inch unbaked pie shell

Combine pumpkin, maple syrup, eggs and ½ cup Carnation Egg Nog, mixing thoroughly. In small saucepan combine remaining ½ cup egg nog and butter. Heat over low heat until butter is melted. Add to pumpkin mixture. Stir in sugar, salt and spices. Pour into pie shell. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 Degrees F. and bake about 30 minutes longer or until filling is set. Serve cold garnished with whipped cream.

Toffee Ice Cream And Sauce Dessert

Want to cut your holiday kitchen-time and yet turn out a perfect party dessert? Here's an ultra-fancy creation that's as easy as pie. In fact, it is pie — a deliciously different "Toffee Ice Cream Pie and Sauce."

The delectable flavor comes from a surprise ingredient, English toffee candy bars. Chopped bits of chocolate-covered candy are layered in and on top of the pie, adding a sweet crunchiness to the ice cream. More toffee bits are stirred into the topping sauce for a rich, mellow flavor. Raves are guaranteed!

You'll find the candy bars very easy to work with—simply chop them with a sharp knife into little bits.

This is an easy-do, prepare-ahead dream of a recipe. Make the pie at your leisure and keep it in the freezer compartment ready for any occasion — avoid that frantic feeling of a last-minute rush. The toffee sauce also makes a fine sundae topping which can be kept indefinitely under refrigeration.

TOFFEE ICE CREAM AND SAUCE

- 17 to 18 vanilla or brown edge wafers
- ½ gallon vanilla ice cream

Eggnog

French toast takes on a holiday air when made with an eggnog based mixture. And, as we all know, dairy fresh eggnog is available practically from Thanksgiving on at your local food store or as a home-delivered item by the dairy that serves you. For this breakfast, lunch or perhaps late supper treat, beat 2 eggs lightly; add 1 cup dairy fresh eggnog; dip bread slices into mixture coating each side completely. Fry in butter until golden brown. Makes enough eggnog mixture for 8 to 10 slices of bread.

- 1 cup chopped Heath English toffee bars
- 1½ cups sugar
- 1 cup evaporated milk, undiluted
- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- ¼ cup light corn syrup
- Dash of salt

Line bottom and sides of buttered 9-inch pie pan with wafers. Spoon ice cream into wafer shell, sprinkling ½ cup of the chopped toffee between layers of ice cream. Store pie in freezer until serving time. Prepare toffee sundae sauce by combining sugar, milk, butter or margarine, syrup and salt. Bring to a boil over low heat; boil 1 minute. Remove from heat and stir in remaining chopped toffee and cool, stirring occasionally. Serve sauce over pie wedges. Yield: One 9-inch pie (6 to 8 servings) and 2½ cups sauce.

Lemon Sauce Made Ahead, And Reheated

If this sauce is made ahead, it may be gently reheated.

- Turkey Vegetable Pie with Cheese Pastry
- Salad Bowl Rolls
- Baked Fig Pudding
- Lemon Sauce
- LEMON SAUCE

2 tablespoons cornstarch
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
2 cups boiling water
3 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ cup butter
In a one-quart saucepan thoroughly stir together the cornstarch, sugar, salt and lemon rind. Gradually stir in the boiling water, keeping smooth. Over moderate heat cook and stir constantly until slightly thickened, clear and boiling. Remove from heat. Stir in the lemon juice and butter until butter melts. Serve at once. Makes 2½ cups — on the tart and thin side.

Savory Soup Adds a Flair To Mealtimes

Let's look ahead to those busy days when there's no time to cook a roast, or a stew, or put a casserole together. That's when the woman who plans ahead can reach into her refrigerator or freezer for a handy container of Cream Soup Case and have steaming hot soup ready in minutes. With a sandwich and milk to drink, it's a satisfying meal.

You'll be amazed at the variety of soups you can make from this one recipe, each one unique in its flavor and appeal. They're not the ordinary soups you'd get from a can, but distinctively different ones like Cream of Corn, Cream of Spinach or Creamed Pea and Carrot.

Take Cream of Spinach: Its flavor is so subtle that the youngsters will never know they're eating that health-giving green vegetable. The whole family will enjoy spinach in this creamy, pale green soup accented with nutmeg and seasoned with chicken bouillon. Garnish it with carrot curls and Parmesan cheese, or float a spoonful of sour cream on top.

Any of the soups made with convenient Cream Soup Base will go well with Broiled Supper Sandwiches. For this easy open-face sandwich use toasted rye bread, buttered, topped with tomato, hard-cooked egg slices and Brick cheese. Broil until the cheese begins to melt and you have delicious sandwiches to please a hungry family.

CREAM OF SPINACH SOUP

2 chicken bouillon cubes
1 cup boiling water
2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen chopped spinach
2 cups Cream Soup Base
1 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
Grated Parmesan cheese and carrot curls OR Dairy sour cream

In 2-quart saucepan dissolve bouillon cubes in water. Add spinach, cover and cook over medium heat 10 minutes; serve. To Cream Soup Base add spinach, milk and nutmeg; heat to simmering. Serve garnished with Parmesan cheese and carrot curls or dollop of sour cream. Yield: 5 1/2 cups.

CREAM SOUP BASE

2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons regular all-purpose flour
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon white pepper
2 cups milk

In a 2-quart heavy saucepan melt butter over medium heat. Stir in flour, paprika and pepper. Remove from heat; gradually stir in milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cook 2 additional minutes. Use as directed or as a base for your favorite cream style soup. Yield: 2 cups.

BROILED SUPPER SANDWICHES

Butter, softened
4 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
Dash of salt
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
8 slices tomato
8 slices Brick cheese
Butter toast. Cover each slice of toast with 4-5 slices egg, dash of salt and 1/4 tablespoon onion. Cover with a slice of tomato and then a slice of cheese. Place on broiler pan. Broil, 4 inches from heat, for 4 minutes or until cheese melts and sandwiches are heated through. Serves 8.

Cranberry Aspic Mold

(1 2-quart mold to serve 8)
2 tablespoons (2 envelopes) unflavored gelatin
2 cups (1 pint) cranberry juice cocktail
1 1/4 cups apple juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 small onion, grated
1 cup cooked drained peas
1 cup cooked drained carrots
1 cup sliced raw celery

In a small saucepan sprinkle gelatin over 1/2 cup cranberry juice. Let stand 5 minutes to soften. Heat gelatin over low heat stirring constantly until gelatin is dissolved. Pour gelatin mixture into remaining cranberry juice mixed with apple juice and lemon juice. Blend well. Chill until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Fold in remaining ingredients. Pour mixture into a lightly oiled 2-quart mold. Chill until firm and unmold on salad greens. Serve with a vinaigrette salad dressing.

Mock Pudding

When dairy fresh eggnog is used in place of half of the milk called for when preparing vanilla pudding mix you have the base for a Mock Nesselrode Pudding. When the pudding is cooked and slightly cooled stir in tiny pieces of candied fruit, some finely chopped walnuts or pecans and a touch of brandy flavoring.

Effortless Glamorous Taste Treat

No need to gild the lily with sauces and fancy serving tricks when there's Cherries Jubilee Ice Cream . . . a festive dessert anytime. It is a dessert in itself that's mighty good to look at, as well as to eat.

But give it the distinction it deserves by using your finest glass dessert plates. Fig cookies "from the store" and plenty of hot coffee are good companions.

If you want to go fancy, Cherries Jubilee Ice Cream makes one of the prettiest Baked Alaska's you've ever seen. It's such a glamorous-looking dessert that you'll be surprised when we show you how easy it is to do.

Cherries Jubilee Baked Alaska
(Makes 6 to 8 servings)

- 1 piece thin bakery of home-prepared sponge or angel cake 8"x6"x1"
- OR
- 1 8" or 9" round or square layer of sponge or angel cake.
- 6 tablespoons granulated sugar, sifted
- 3 egg whites, at room temperature
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 quart Cherries Jubilee Ice Cream

Place cake on several thicknesses of wrapping paper 1/2" larger than the cake, on a wet board. A cookie sheet may be used but the board is better insulation against the heat necessary for browning the meringue topping.

Beat egg whites and salt with hand or electric beater until beater is raised. Beat in the they stand in peaks when the sugar gradually and slowly, while beating until stiff and glossy. Add vanilla. Quickly spoon the Cherries Jubilee Ice Cream onto the cake. The ice cream should be very firm. Immediately, cover completely the ice cream and sides of cake to the very edges with the meringue. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees) 4 to 5 minutes, just until the meringue is delicately browned.

Take from the oven. Slip 2 spatulas between the cake and paper. Place Baked Alaska on chilled serving plate. Serve at once, cut in slices.

Loaf Cake And Coffee

Coffee is the biggest single import into the United States. Its popularity as a beverage is unmatched. It's versatile, too.

This delicious Coffee Date Nut Loaf is just one sample from among many appealing recipes that use coffee as an ingredient.

- COFFEE DATE NUT LOAF
- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 - 4 tsp. double-action baking powder
 - 1 tsp. salt
 - 2-3 cup sugar
 - 1-3 cup broken walnut meats
 - 1/4 cup finely cut, pitted dates
 - 1 cup strong coffee
 - 1/4 tsp. baking soda
 - 1 egg, well beaten
 - 2 tbsp. melted shortening
- Mix and sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Stir in walnut meats and dates. Combine coffee, baking soda, egg and shortening. Add to dry ingredients. Turn into greased loaf pan. Let stand 20 minutes. Bake in moderate oven, 375 degrees F., one hour.

Corned Beef Versatile

Here's your solution when you find yourself short on ideas and minutes, long on family members who want to eat RIGHT NOW: serve canned corned beef hash. Whether it's breakfast, brunch, lunch, or supertime, versatile canned corned beef hash fits the bill . . . because it keeps great company with so many things!

Several cans on your pantry shelf assure taste-tempting meals in short order. Just spread the hash in a skillet to cook atop the range; or cut it into generous slices to bake or broil according to label directions. In 10 minutes the combination of lean corned beef, tender potatoes, mild chopped onions, and subtle spices heats to perfection.

At serving time, add the new eye and taste appeal of any of the following:

- Poached egg
- Chopped or sliced onion
- chopped or sliced green pepper
- Shredded or sliced Cheddar, process cheddar, or mild process cheese.

Ryan Cool On Rapid Transit

Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan's ideas on rapid transit for San Mateo County got a cool reception from the West Bay Rapid Transit Authority.

A letter from Ryan, in which he set down his conditions for supporting a transit plan and in which he urged that the authority not be "stampeded," was read at a meeting of the group in Redwood City yesterday.

There was little comment about the letter. Chairman William R. Lawson asked that the letter be acknowledged and said he hoped Ryan would continue to feel free to express his views or comment.

Member William M. Werder commented, however, that "if the assemblyman has some ideas, now would be a fine time for him to attend one of our meetings."

In the letter, Ryan said he was submitting the written statement because he had been unable to attend the authority's meetings.

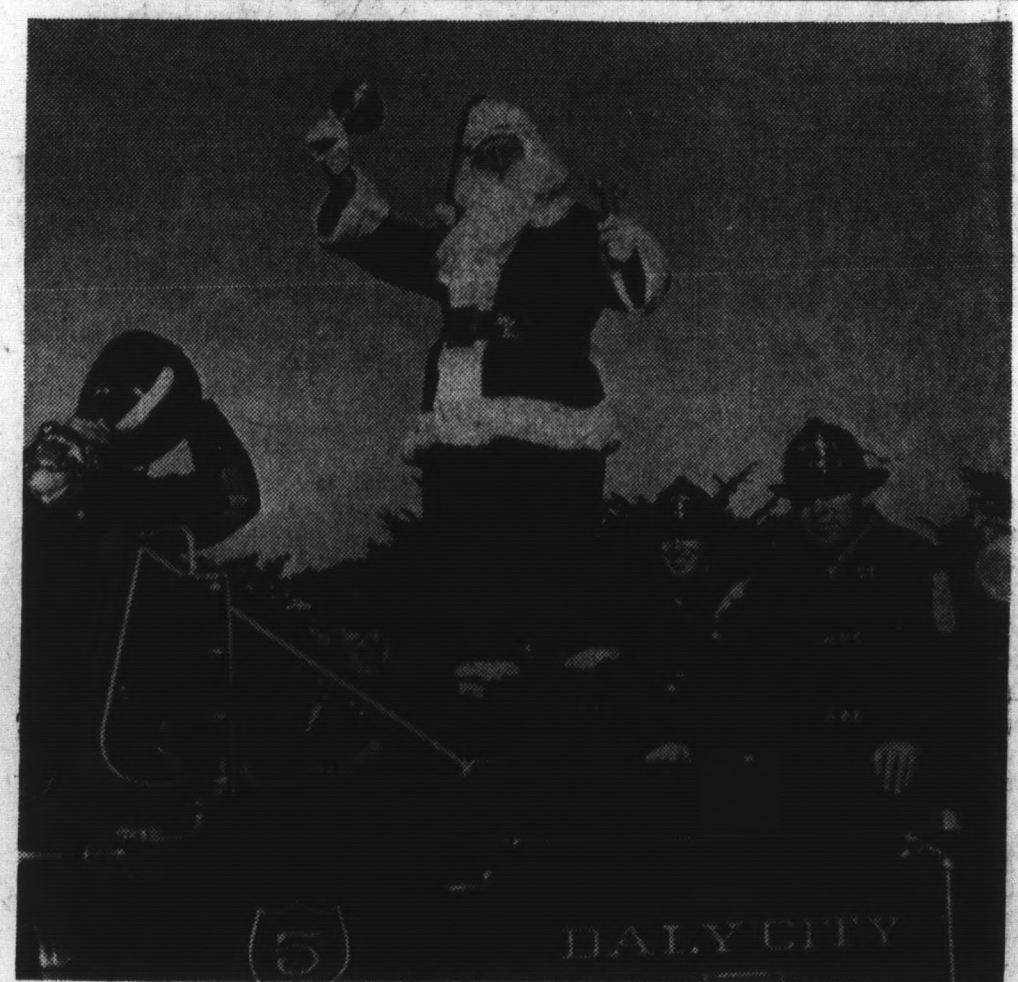

The legislator specified three conditions that will have to be met if he is to support the rapid transit plan that will be submitted to the voters in 1968: 1) costs must be met with revenue bonds, not general obligation bonds, 2) property taxes must not be increased, 3) "The system must be located from the very beginning so that a significant number of residents of this county may take advantage of the transit without first using the automobiles they presently have in order to gain access to the transit system."

"The reason for these limitations," Ryan said, "is that I am convinced that no matter how much in favor of rapid transit the average person is, most citizens living in the county want rapid transit only because they presume that others will use the system so that they can use their automobiles. The implications of such a possibility are frightening in the extreme. If this county commits itself to some kind of new, fixed-rail system... we run the risk of watching trainloads of people travelling from San Francisco to Santa Clara County while the citizens of San Mateo County shoulder a large share of the costs through increased property taxes because not enough citizens in this county use the system to make it pay for itself here."

Ryan added that he would also oppose "use of property

Helicopter Gets Santa to S.S.F.

Santa Claus arrived in South San Francisco by helicopter Friday promptly at 11 a.m. to the cheers of hundreds of excited children.

The Chamber of Commerce and the Recreation and Park Department planned the gala arrival of Santa to officially open the Christmas season in that city.

Following a 20 minute flight over the city in his helicopter, Santa dropped atop Sign Hill shortly before noon.

At the moment Santa touched down thousands of helium filled balloons with gift certificates attached (from the city's merchants) were released all over town. It also marked the official turning on of the Christmas street lighting downtown and at the Marina.

Santa then transferred to a sleigh decorated Jeep, which drove down the mountain, escorted through town and finally departed for the North Pole from the city's Oyster Point marina at approximately 4 p.m. Santa's arrival at the bottom of Sign Hill was greeted by the PAL Drum and Bugle Corp. The Drum and Bugle Corp. and a police escort then led Santa to the city hall where he officially marked the openings of the Christmas season for South San Francisco.

After a brief stop at city hall Santa and escort proceeded to the White Front Shopping Center to pass out candy.

At 12:45 p.m. Santa greeted his friends at the Brentwood shopping area where he passed out candy, travelling on to the Southwood shopping area to open their holiday season.

Buri Buri Shopping Center was Santa's next stop, followed by stops at Winston Manor Shopping Center and Sunshine Gardens Shopping Center.

Young Demos Form Group In N. County

The Hon. Willie Brown, state assemblyman from the 18th district and Edward Keating, publisher of Ramparts magazine, will be guest speakers at the first meeting of a new Young Democratic Club for the North County area.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. on November 30 at Val's Redwood Room, 89th and Junipero Serra Boulevard in Daly City.

President pro tempore of the new club, Jack Willis, states, "The program will consist of political and legislative action—on issues and education program specifically related to politics, civil rights, community relations and liberal democratic ideas."

Membership in the Young Democratic Club is open to residents of San Mateo County 16-35 years of age who are interested in becoming better informed and actively involved in national, state and local government.

Pacifica Woman Is Sentenced

A woman convicted of welfare fraud charges has been sentenced to probation by a San Mateo County judge.

Mrs. Marian E. Whitacre, 37, of 439 Inverness Drive, Pacifica, was placed on summary probation for one year. A 60-day jail sentence and all but $25 of a $225 fine were suspended on condition of good behavior.

The district attorney's office charged that she failed to report that she sent four of her eight children to live with their father in Arizona and continued to receive welfare support for them. She was found guilty of the charge.

BOY HURT
A nine-year-old Daly City boy was slightly injured Friday when he was hit by a car while crossing Santa Cruz Avenue. Steven Brad Maples, of 160 San Diego Avenue, was struck by Norman E. Ludlow, 32, of 1079 Leith Avenue, Santa Clara, after darting into the street.

An Honor for North County Nurserymen

By IVA NEWMAN

A major event in the area of beautification took place last week when Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson presented the American Association of Nurserymen's fourteenth Annual Industrial Landscaping Awards to thirteen recipients from across the country, at a Washington, D.C., luncheon.

The Landscaping at the College of San Mateo earned one of these coveted awards for Pacific Nurseries, Colma; A. & J. Shooter Co., Landscape contractors, Burlingame; Mike Painter of the John Carl Warneke, Landscape Architect firm and the College of San Mateo.

For this important occasion, horticulture experts from the nursery industry converted the Statler Hilton's Presidential Ballroom into a lush flowering garden. The garden was set off by twenty-foot trees and beautiful flowering shrubs and plants highlighted by tropical orange trees imported from Florida specifically for this occasion.

Peninsulars who made the trip to Washington to receive the Awards in person were: Louis D. Schenone, General Manager of Pacific Nurseries, Colma; Arthur and John Shooter of A. & J. Shooter, Inc., landscape contractors, Burlingame;

Mike Painter and John Carl Warneke, Warneke Landscape Architects, San Francisco; and Matteo Fasanaro, Business Manager of the College of San Mateo.

Secretary of Agriculture, Orville L. Freeman gave a special address in which he complimented to nursery industry's vital role in national beautification and praised the Industrial Landscaping Awards program as having significant influence in making businessmen aware of the practical necessity of beautification.

Freeman said that "One of the truly exciting things happening in America today is a happy rebirth of concern for beauty, a concern in large part kindled by the President and the First Lady. Tens of millions are responding to the call of the President and Mrs. Johnson to beautify America. Anyone who doubts this should travel back and forth across the country as I have the past several months. North, South, East or West, the call to beauty rings in the air."

People are crying out against the offensiveness of undisguised dumps and junkyards, wishing aloud that ugliness be banished from sight, Freeman told the luncheon guests. They are noting and enjoying and demanding, as never before, trees, flowers, crystal-clear waters, smog-free air and tasteful landscaping. Every day now, from one end of the country to another, the truism that ugliness does offend and beauty does reward is being proved. And we are discovering in the process that beauty rewards in more ways than the esthetic. In this new national awareness, this renewed appreciation and strengthened desire for the things that are beautiful, there is, implicit, a new and higher national morality.

Nurseryman First Secretary Freeman praised the long-standing affinity between the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the American Association of Nurserymen, reminding his listeners of the fact that the very first Secretary of Agriculture, Norman J. Colman, was the president of the A.A.N. on two occasions, in 1882 and again in 1885, and that affinity has been as close and as valuable as it has been long-lived. Now, said Freeman, as the branch of agriculture most directly involved, the nursery industry is playing a particularly important role in the national beautification effort.

MRS. LYNDON B. JOHNSON presented the American Association of Nurserymen's award to Louis D. Schenone, general manager of Pacific Nurseries, Colma, in recognition of achievement in landscaping and beautification which this firm did at the College of San Mateo.

Flowering Plants For In the Home

From Thanksgiving until well past the New Year holiday the homemaker is hard pushed to get her shopping and other seasonal chores done. She wants the home attractive but has little time to make flower arrangements. The answer is a brightly flowered plant or two to live up the living room.

Living plants last much longer than cut flowers and they take only a minute or two of care each day to keep them lovely. Many of them will last the full month between Thanksgiving and New Years and some of them, will last for two or three months, if they are kept outside in a protected place and brought inside for just the time they are needed. The California Association of Nurserymen report an exceptional wide choice of color this holiday season.

Thanks to the growers of potted chrysanthemums, you can buy plant in perfect flower any day of the year. There is a wide range of colors to choose from, so matching your decor is a joy instead of a chore. The large, semi-single flowered types, featured on The Times Garden Page last summer are now available at many of the flower shops.

We love bright flowered cyclamen with its fresh, clean colors and interesting round leaves. The four or five flowers that rise jauntily above the foliage is only a preview of what is to come. Part the leaves and see the little buds rising from the "bulb." These buds keep a succession of blooms coming for weeks. The important thing is to never let your cyclamen get thirsty. Water it daily! Later, you can set the plant in a shady section of the garden where it will bloom each winter. Cyclamen drops its leaves and becomes dormant in summer and comes out fresh in the fall.

The Belgian Indica azaleas like to flower when the days are short. Their large, semi-double blooms are massed on flat-topped plants with dark green foliage, in shades of white, pink, pink and white and red. Plunge the pot in deep water for a few minutes when you get it home, then water daily to keep it in tip-top condition.

Christmas Holiday Program Set

The Perennial Gardeners' Club is presenting Jack Daniels in a Christmas program Friday, December 2 at the San Mateo County Fairgrounds in the Hall of Flowers, Garden Center Rooms.

The program is the first fund raising project of the club and the proceeds will be used for the landscaping of the Millbrae Players grounds on Broadway in Millbrae.

The Perennial Gardeners won the Sears Roebuck "Help" money award at the San Diego Convention and with the aid of the members of the Millbrae Players group, have cleared away the debris on the grounds of the building, moved the portable dressing room, and leveled the ground.

Now the area is ready for the beginning stages of the landscaping. Allan Hammer, Belmont landscape architect, designed the plan that will be developed through the years. Hammer is the assistant superintendent of the San Mateo Park Department.

The club members are planning to plant several Sequoia sempervirens (redwoods) at the west end of the grounds.

Iron Is Key to Lush Green Leaves

It's rather simple to keep your garden a lush green. Water, fertilizer and a little cultivating will often do the trick. But despite all your efforts, a plant can turn a sickly yellow. When there are no insects or diseases present, this could be due to lack of iron.

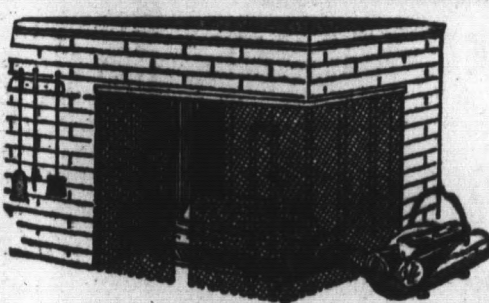

To spot iron anemic plants, look for leaves that are yellowing between the veins. Iron anemic plants can be found anywhere in the United States, according to scientists at the U.S.

Department of Agriculture, particularly in soils high in lime or that are poorly drained.

How can well-fertilized plants lack iron? Scientists at Geigy Chemical Corporation say that iron may become "tied up" in the soil and thus unavailable to the plant. When this happens, no amount of fertilizer will help. The solution is to add iron separately in a form that stays available to the plant. Such a form is sequestrane, an iron chelate.

Recovery of an iron anemic plant can be amazingly fast. For instance, a yellow plant sprayed with iron chelate can be a lush green in 48 hours. The iron is absorbed right through the leaves.

Youth Held After High-Speed Chase

A 13-year-old San Francisco junior high school student was captured in San Mateo last week after a long high-speed chase down Bayshore Freeway from Brisbane.

The 1967-model rental car the boy was driving, which had been stolen at International Airport, sustained major damage when it went off the highway at 2 a.m. at Poplar Avenue and leveled several traffic signs and a light pole.

The boy and his passenger, both of whom were arrested, escaped with minor injuries, for which they were treated at County General Hospital.

The young driver, (identity withheld) was booked at Hillcrest Juvenile Hall for auto theft. His passenger, Torise Faapouli, 21, of 1 Tanforan Avenue, San Bruno, was booked at county jail on the same charge.

the delinquency of a minor. Highway Patrolmen L. A. Thorwaldson and G. M. Sutton said the car, which was being chased by Brisbane police and several highway patrol cars, went out of control as the young driver tried to turn off at Poplar. Brisbane Police Officers Frank Doran and Warren Coombs said the youth tried to run them off the road during the chase and scraped the right side of the patrol car.

S.S.F. Pair Is Injured

Two South San Francisco youths were injured when their motorcycle smashed into the rear of a car driven by Sandra Liu, 17, of 136 Adrian Drive.

Allan Omand, 16-year-old El Camino High School student, was riding with a companion, Charles Peter Kroto, also a student at El Camino High School, on a small motorcycle when it ran into the rear of a car driven by Sandra Liu, 17, of 136 Adrian Drive.

The injured boys were taken to Mary's Help Hospital for treatment of minor injuries and released.

Food Thoughts

Spread graham crackers with honey butter. Cover generously with flaked coconut. Broil until coconut is light brown and honey butter bubbly. Serve with milk or hot cocoa.

Pears, honey, and warm gingerbread make a delicious dessert. Cut warm gingerbread in squares, top with well-drained pears. Drizzle honey over the top. Serve at once.

U.S. farm population dropped from 15.6 million to 12.4 million from 1960 to 1965, or from 8.7 per cent of the total national population to 6.4 per cent.

'Twas the night before Christmas And all through the house, Not a creature was stirring Not even a mouse.

Clement Moore Do you leave a plate of cookies out for Santa on the night before Christmas? Perhaps with Raggedy Ann waiting to serve them?

Cookies are a delicious part of the holiday celebration throughout the land! Traditional, regional and new cookies are lovingly prepared each year for entertaining, for giving, for filling children's stockings and even for Santa. Cookies are responsible for many happy childhood memories of the season.

This year's offering to Santa might be a very rich, short cookie, crunchy with roasted almonds, similar to a Tea Cake but with cocoa added to make it even better. These delicious balls of good eating, rolled in powdered sugar, are called Festive Snow Balls. If you would like to offer Santa a choice, you might include Almond Bubbles, too!

You'll find many delectable recipes in the "Cookies U.S.A." section of Betty Crocker's "Holiday Heritage," a charming booklet enclosed in special holiday sacks (5 pound and larger) of Gold Medal regular Flour and Gold Medal Wondra Instant-

Flour on your grocer's shelf.

FESTIVE SNOW BALLS

¾ cup soft butter or margarine
1-3 cup confectioners' sugar
1 cup all-purpose flour (regular or instantized)
½ cup instant cocoa
1 can (5 ounces) roasted diced almonds

Combine all ingredients in large mixer bowl. Mix on lowest speed of mixer or by hand until dough forms. Chill until firm enough to handle.

Heat oven to 325 degrees. Roll dough into 1-inch balls. Place 2 inches apart on ungreased baking sheet. Bake 20 minutes or until firm. Cool 2 minutes; remove carefully from baking sheet. While warm, dip tops in additional confectioners' sugar. Cool completely on wire racks. Dip in sugar again. Makes about 4 dozen cookies.

ALMOND BUBBLES

2-3 cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2-3 cup all-purpose flour (regular or instantized)
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1 cup (4½-oz. can) almonds, chopped
½ teaspoon vanilla

Combine all ingredients except icing in large mixer bowl. Mix on lowest speed of mixer or by hand until dough forms. Chill until firm enough to handle.

Heat oven to 325 degrees. Roll dough into 1-inch balls. Place 2 inches apart on ungreased baking sheet. Bake 20 minutes or until firm. Cool 2 minutes; remove carefully from baking sheet. While warm, dip tops in additional confectioners' sugar. Cool completely on wire racks. Dip in sugar again. Makes about 4 dozen cookies.

Confectioners' Sugar Icing

Combine 1 cup confectioners' sugar, 4 teaspoons water and ½ teaspoon almond extract. Add small amount of water, if necessary.

When using Self-Rising Flour, omit salt.

Yorkshire Christmas Pie Recipe

Make a crust with sides and bottom thick and large enough to hold a turkey, goose, fowl, partridge, and pigeon, all boned. Season well and place the meat as close together as possible in the crust. Fill the spaces with woodcock, moor game, and any other wild fowl at hand. Add four pounds of butter, lay on a top layer of crust, and bake for at least four hours.

When using Self-Rising Flour, omit salt.

Food Thoughts

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman says that over the next 15 years the world must prepare to feed an additional one billion people.

U.S. milk production in June was estimated at 11,416 million pounds, 3 per cent below a year ago, and the lowest report for the month since 1939.

Homemade Gifts Mean the Most

Take a good recipe, add a little imagination, and you have the answer for your annual search for inexpensive yet really personal gifts. "Tiny Jeweled Fruitcakes" are a perfect example. These tempting miniatures are wrapped in plastic film, tied with red ribbon and then nestled in a non-stick aluminum muffin pan. Include recipe instructions in the package, add aluminum measuring cups and spoons for stocking stuffers, and you create a gift that will keep on giving for years.

You may wish to add more of your own favorite muffin or biscuit recipes to the gift. The even-heating aluminum pan will assure consistent even browning for all your muffin recipes, and the non-stick finish swishes clean with hot soapy water to eliminate tedious after-baking scouring.

TINY JEWELLED FRUITCAKES
1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
2-3 cup chopped pecan halves
2-3 cup white raisins
2-3 cup seeded and chopped preserved kumquats
¾ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
3 eggs

Apple juice
Reserve ¼ cup of the flour. Mix it with the nuts and fruits which have been combined. Sift together the remaining 1¼ cups of flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter until light and fluffy. Gradually cream in sugar. Beat eggs one at a time. Stir in vanilla. Continue beating until mixture is light and fluffy. Gradually stir in flour mixture, blending well after each addition. Fold in floured nuts and fruits. Spoon mixture into lightly oiled non-stick aluminum 2½-inch muffin pans. Bake in slow (275 degree F.) oven for about 1 hour or until fruitcakes are done. Remove from pan. Cool. Wrap fruitcakes in a cheesecloth that has been dipped in apple juice. Store for several days before gift wrapping in transparent wrap. Makes about 14 individual fruitcakes.

Fruited Squash Pie For Casual Holidays

Holidays are cheerful times with much to do and often, numerous guests. However, there are times when the holiday—like Thanksgiving—is celebrated with less formality as an intimate family gathering.

If members of your family are watching their weight, a festive dessert with less calories is a welcome addition to a holiday meal with its traditional foods. You might try this new recipe for a fruited squash (or pumpkin, or sweet potato) pie, which employs low calorie canned fruits and a candy flavored gelatin to give it a delicious flavor, which should please everybody.

FRUITED SQUASH PIE
16 gingersnaps
2 ¾-oz. packages low calorie candy flavored orange gelatin dessert
2 12-oz. cans low calorie apricot nectar, heated to boiling
1 16-oz. can low calorie Diet Delight apricot halves, drained
1 cup canned or frozen mashed squash, pumpkin, or sweet potato
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
½ teaspoon ground nutmeg
3 egg whites, beaten until stiff

1 cup low calorie whipped topping mix
Line the bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie pan with gingersnaps. Dissolve gelatin in boiling apricot nectar. Drain apricots and reserve 8 halves for the top of the pie. Dice remaining apricots. Stir apricots, pumpkin and spices into gelatin. Chill until mixture thickens slightly. Fold in egg whites and chill again until thickened. Beat and then spoon mixture into lined pie pan heaping it high. Garnish top with apricot halves and whipped topping. Chill until firm. Makes one 9-inch pie, 8 servings.

With Diet Delight products: 129 calories per serving.
With regular canned fruits and gelatin: 257 calories per serving.

Particularly during windy winter months, keep the apple bowl in your home filled with health-building, vitamin-packed Washington State Delicious. These handsome, broad-shouldered apples carry Vitamins A, C, and G to your family to protect it from colds and infections and are a satisfying and regulating snack.

John Proctor, played by Steve Wilson, receives a warning from the Rev. John Hale, portrayed by Ken Doeringhaus in the Terra Nova High School production of "The Crucible," opening Thursday night. (See Terra Nova Topics, Family Life Section.)

Around Westmoor

Westmoor High's new Comparative Government classes has found its way to many interested students. Under the supervision of social science teacher Dexter Leland the class is broken into two phases.

The first phase of the class is an attempt to gain a deeper understanding of United States democracy. Analyses of capitalism are usually covered in the required senior civics and economics courses.

The second phase of the class is the study of the nature of other "isms" such as fascism, communism, and socialism.

Rick Centanni participating in the class summed up the second phase by stating, "Comparative Government is a class which explains the full and complete meaning of capitalism, communism, and socialism. The class compares these three types of societies so as to know the difference between them."

BESIDES the material covered in the two phases, discussions and problems are brought up about present day extremists movement, modifications of capitalism and relation of the welfare state philosophy.

Senior Don Colclough expressed "I enjoy Comparative Government because it gives us a chance to express our own ideas and feelings about today's problems. We have discussed everything from Viet Nam, to the John Birch Society, to the state election. We have a chance to learn about the many other types of governments in the world today."

Adding about the discussions and problems brought up in class, senior Diana Bravos notes, "Half of the time Mr. Leland has a bewildered look on his face as if he can't believe some of the radical ideas we bring up."

The class, in its first year, is taught once during the day. Summing its purpose and functioning, Ruth Feischer a member of the class, said:

"Comparative Government is an important class for those who are interested in learning more about the different types of governmental systems that exist in our world today. It is necessary that students understand other systems so that they will better understand the type of system that they live under."

BEGINNING with the second grading period at Westmoor, there will be a change in grading methods.

The grade "H" will be issued some students, not only for such no-credit courses as study hall, but also for students who were absent more than 40 per cent of the grading period.

No credit is received for an "H" or an "F," but the purpose of the "H" grade is to identify students failing to complete course requirements because of excessive absence from school.

Parents who have students with excessive absences should contact the counselors to inquire about home instruction.

S.S.F. School Board Okehs New Class

South San Francisco Unified School District Trustees authorized the addition of another class for educationally handicapped children at the board meeting Monday night.

Supt. Dr. Paul Nielsen requested the additional class to accommodate eight new district students classified as educationally handicapped.

The district now has four classes for educationally handicapped children.

In other business Monday night, board members awarded a purchase order for 15 art tables to be used at Baden High School to the American Seating Company of San Francisco. The firm's bid of $1,296 was the lowest entered.

A purchase order for a power hacksaw and drill press was awarded to Riley Precision Tool Company of Redwood City, at a low bid price of $1,479, and A. C. Young Machinery Company's bid of $1,506 on a power bandsaw was accepted.

The equipment will be used in the district's vocational machine shop program.

The superintendent presented a letter from Harvis Construction Co., designating December 12 as the new completion date for the Parkway School all-purpose room.

The board requested a specific completion date on the project at the last meeting, noting the facility is needed for a lunchroom during the winter.

Additional Funds Sought in S.S.F.

A San Bruno school official proposed Monday night that the State Legislature authorize additional funds for financing programs for the educationally handicapped.

Dr. Robert Rottman, director of special services for the San Bruno Park School District, said in a report to trustees that the state should "bear more of the cost of these programs, as they do for programs aiding the physically handicapped."

Dr. Rottman said the school district is now providing all funds for transportation, and also pays the salaries of aids required in each of the district's three classes for educationally handicapped children.

"The money we receive from the state barely covers salaries for the three special teachers," he said.

Dr. Rottman noted schools for the deaf, blind, or otherwise physically handicapped are completely financed by the state.

"The educationally handicapped are no less deserving than these children," he said.

The school board concurred with Dr. Rottman's report and instructed him to investigate pending legislation on related matters and "to apply through appropriate channels if no similar legislation has been recommended."

A Daly City man was said recovering at Mary's Help Hospital from a gunshot wound in his left thigh which he claimed was accidentally self-inflicted.

Police said they were continuing their investigation of the shooting in which Fonzella McPeters, 29, of Mar Vista Drive, was wounded by a .22-caliber pistol inside his home.

McPeters told police he was cleaning the weapon when it discharged hitting him in the thigh.

The bullet penetrated upwards through the leg area and lodged in the lower back, according to reports.

Stolen Car Hits Pair

A San Francisco woman and her 10-year-old son were injured when a stolen car smashed into their vehicle in Daly City Sunday.

Cleo L. Tufo, 42, and her son, Frank, of 433 Sunrise Way, were treated and released at Mary's Help Hospital for injuries suffered in the accident on Lake Merced Drive in the Westlake section of Daly City.

Police said the vehicle was abandoned following the accident, and the driver was not apprehended.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

Don't neglect care of baby teeth just because they are eventually replaced. Neglected baby teeth can cause children much harm. Due to this neglect children may not eat many of the nourishing foods they need for proper growth. Neglected baby teeth may have to come out too soon. When a baby tooth comes out too soon, the teeth on both sides of the empty space have time to fill the gap. This crowds the incoming permanent tooth out of its proper place in the mouth.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same, however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Boy, 15, Is Hit By Car

A 15-year-old Daly City boy was hit and seriously injured by a car Monday as he crossed Euthage Avenue in a driving rain storm.

Witnesses said Jack Charles Benezra, 1366 South Mayfair Avenue, was walking across the street with his head bowed, when a car driven by Victor D. Graf, 37, 48 Fairview Drive, sideswiped the youth.

Young Benezra "hopped" to the curb after being struck.

The boy was treated for multiple lacerations and bruises at Mary's Help Hospital where he was rushed following the accident.

Two Safes Hit In Daly City

Two safes were broken into at Lucca's Market on Mission Street in Daly City Sunday and an undetermined amount of money stolen.

The burglar entered the store through a rooftop air vent, police said.

One of the safes "peeled" open was in the market office and the other in the meat section of the store.

Cash, Checks Are Stolen

A metal box containing $364 in cash and checks was taken from the Pacifica residence of Jack L. Whitefield over the Thanksgiving holiday.

Whitefield, a warehouseman who lives on Heathcliff Drive, was away for the holiday period when someone pried open a door with a small instrument.

Missing cash totaled $175, in addition to $5 in pennies. Other valuables in the home were untouched, however.

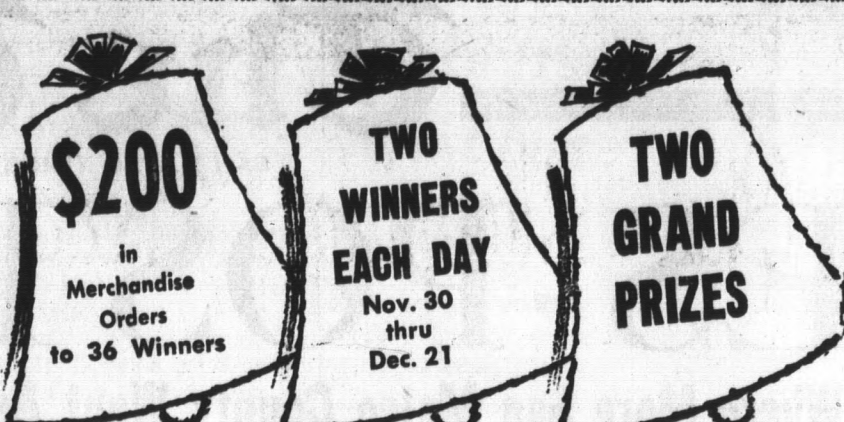

PLAY TIME
San Bruno's Capuchino High School will turn back the clock to 1910 in San Francisco in "I Remember Mama," the first term play to be presented December 2 and 3 in the school auditorium.

YULE MUSIC
A Cappella and Chamber Choirs of Jefferson High School in Daly City will present a concert of music for the Christmas season at 8 p.m.; December 3, in the cafeteria building.

"MY BEST CHRISTMAS"

KAYLEEN HUTCHINGS
1301 Dakota Ave., San Mateo, Calif.

8 year old Kayleen, attends the Horral Grammar School in San Mateo, where she is in the 3rd Grade. She has 2 brothers ages 7 and 4. Her favorite hobby is reading and she is very interested in Brownies of which she is an active member. She also assists in the school library.

Kayleen writes: "My Best Christmas was when I was 7 years old and the best I ever had. My mother gave us our stockings and we hung them up. After everybody was asleep I got up. I turned on the Christmas tree lights. I waited and waited for Santa, but he didn't come. Then I thought—has Santa a bad cold? So I went to bed. In the morning, Santa had come. I took the wrappings off my presents. I found a Mary Poppins doll inside one. I had so many presents I could barely get them under the tree. From that day on I knew that Santa wasn't sick."

TODAY'S CONTEST WINNERS!

$5 GIFT CERTIFICATE FOR

CHRIS MIETTINEN
2700 Sequoia Way, Belmont, California

10 year old Chris is in the 5th grade at the Cipriani Grammar school in Belmont. He belongs to the Cub Scouts. His favorite hobby and interest is his electric guitar... and he likes to sing too. When he is not practicing his guitar he is busy caring for his pet hamsters.
"My Best Christmas, was when I was waiting for my uncle to come," Chris writes, "I had received all my presents but his. I sort of knew what he was bringing me. I wanted it badly. Mom especially liked the present I gave her anyway it was the thought. Suddenly the door burst open—and there was my Uncle. I saw it! The shape made it plain to see. But what was in the other box? It was time to open the presents. My grandmother, another grandfather, uncle and the cat and myself. I passed the presents around. I got it! My guitar! But now for the other box. It was an amplifier! After I got them all set up, I played a tune. That night I saw how lucky I was to have such nice parents and relatives."
